UN FURTHER DELAYS VOTE ON DISARMAMENT

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—The 60-member United Nations political committee today postponed a vote on American-backed disarmament proposals for 24 hours. It was the second delay in reaching a decision on the plan which includes a suggestion for big-power arms talks. The balloting had been held over from Monday when Russia, faced with defeat on her proposals, asked a 24-hour postponement so she could study the western resolution. The Russians seek an immediate ban on atomic and hydrogen weapons followed by the establishment of controls. The West wants controls arranged first and then the ban imposed. The Russian-requested delay gave rise to speculation that the Soviet Union might not oppose the western resolution.

U.S. Reverses Stand On Korea Peace Talks

Dean Informs Reds of Willingness to Include Neutrals Under Set Conditions

By SAM SUMMERLIN
PANMUNJOM (AP)—United States envoy, Arthur Dean, today told the Communists that the United States would be willing to invite neutral powers to the Korean peace conference under certain conditions, a sharp reversal of his earlier stand.

At the same time, Dean rejected as "totally unacceptable" a Communist proposal to hold the conference at Panmunjom, with Russia, India, Burma, Indonesia and Pakistan attending as non-voting observers.

The United Nations delegate to preliminary peace talks told the Reds the U.S. would ask its allies to consider asking neutrals to the full-dress conference if:

1. The belligerent nations reach agreement on the Korean question and want to move on to broad Asian questions.
2. The conference bogs down and it appears that progress on Korean problems is impossible.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles declared today that all anti-Communist prisoners of war held by the Neutral Nations' Repatriation Commission in Korea should be given their freedom and civilian status on Jan. 22.

Indian Prime Minister Nehru had recently suggested that the question of release of the PWs should be considered anew by both sides in the Korean controversy if the proposed preliminary conference does not take place.

Dulles made clear in a statement that the United States rejects this Nehru suggestion and feels that provisions of the Korean armistice agreement covering PWs must be carried out to the letter.

He said these provisions state that 120 days after the prisoners were turned over to the repatriation commission for explanations by Reds trying to persuade them to go home, they must be given their freedom and civilian status. He said the date for doing this will be Jan. 22.

LONDON (Reuters) — Moscow radio today instructed listeners that President Eisenhower's visit to Ottawa last week was intended to "sever the links between Canada and Britain."

The object, the broadcast said, was to "enslave still more the United States' northern neighbor."

Dense Fog Slows London

Townpeople Buy Masks to Combat Evil That Killed 4,000 Last Year

LONDON (UP)—Blinding, choking fog slowly paralyzed the world's largest city tonight, threatening a possible repeat of last year's "killer smog," which claimed the lives of 4,000 Londoners.

Fog descended thicker than ever tonight for the second straight evening. It spread across London and most of England and Wales.

Officials were seriously concerned for its eventual effects unless it clears soon.

Air, rail and road traffic was diverted or slowed to a crawl by the winter's worst blanket of mist.

By mid-afternoon the daylight had been reduced to the dark of evening. Footsteps echoed strangely as the mist muffled all sounds in the dim, narrow back streets of London.

All druggists reported a rush by Londoners to buy "smog masks." Many gauze masks were distributed free under Britain's socialized medical program. Only a few of the masks had appeared on the streets tonight. But many Londoners wrapped scarves around their faces.

The weather bureau predicted that the fog would not lift for at least another 48 hours.

SMOG—loaded with smoke and gases—traps and holds down the smoke belching from millions of London's old chimneys, pots and exhaust fumes from cars and buses.

Thick patches of fog appeared Monday night. This morning thousands were late to work as the fog slowed trains, closed down airports and extended generally all over southern England and Wales.

A grizzled gatekeeper at a suburban station told an American commuter who rushed up in the fog at 9.30 in the hope of still catching the 9.15 train: "Why, the 8.15 isn't even gone yet."

Noon in Central London took on the appearance of dusk. Whisps of grey fog floated indoors.

Fraudulent Pyramid Amounts to $250,000

NEW YORK (AP)—A social-climbing Wall Street bond salesman was accused Monday of fraudulently pyramiding a shoe-string investment into a $250,000 fortune in four months. He started in Wall Street only a year ago.

He is Seymour Z. Zeitlin, 44, of Purchase, N.Y., enjoined by the state Supreme Court against further stock dealings.

Brutal Details of Murder Of Bobby Greenlease Read

(Compiled From UP and AP Dispatches)

KANSAS CITY, Mo.—Carl Austin Hall's confession said today that he had nearly all of the $600,000 Bobby Greenlease ransom with him when he was seized by St. Louis police on Oct. 6. About $300,000 now is missing.

Where the $300,000 went is the only big mystery remaining in the infamous kidnap case. Hall, 34, and his mistress, Mrs. Bonnie Brown Heady, are now before a jury that will decide whether they shall be executed for kidnapping and murdering the six-year-old boy.

They already have pleaded guilty.

Hall, the 34-year-old playboy who turned to crime when his inherited fortune was squandered, showed little sign of emotion as the 36 pages of gruesome detail was read by A. S. Reeder, one of two FBI agents who took his confession.

Hall related how he drove the boy and Mrs. Heady across the state line into Kansas soon after six-year-old Bobby was abducted from a private Catholic school in Kansas City.

"Bobby had not offered any resistance and had not made any outcries," the confession read, "but seemed interested in his ride and appeared to be enjoying himself during the trip."

"After stopping the car, I got out on the driver's side, went to the rear and let the tailgate down, then laid out the blue plastic sheet. I then went around the car to the side opposite the driver and entered the car."

"Bobby was still sitting on the front seat, but Bonnie had left the car and was walking up a hedgerow at the rear of the car."

"This rope was 12 inches or 15 inches long and was too short for me to hold in my hands and get a good twist. Bobby was struggling and kicking, so I took my .38 calibre revolver and fired what I believed to be two shots at Bobby's head at close range."

"I missed him on the first shot, but the second one entered his head, causing him to bleed profusely and subsequently die. I do not remember exactly what position Bobby was in at the time of his death but I believe that I had pushed him down on the floor."

As the gruesome story was unfolded in the packed courtroom, Robert C. Greenlease, the multi-millionaire father of the little boy, sat just inside the court railing. He was less than eight feet from Hall at the defendant's table.

Mrs. Heady's confession told how Hall shot the boy when he found a cord he had planned to use to strangle him was too short and how the couple earlier had been frustrated in an attempt to abduct the boy's 11-year-old sister, Virginia Sue.

Mrs. Heady appeared almost bored as the confession was read. Only once in the 44 minutes it took to read it did she appear affected. That was when the point came where she told how she drank herself almost into insensibility following the kidnap slaying Sept. 28.

"I wanted to stay drunk," she had walked about 75 or 100 feet when she heard two shots. "I then realized Carl had actually killed the victim by shooting him, although it originally was planned that he would strangle him with a small piece of rope he had in the station wagon."

"As I approached the station wagon, Carl was wrapping Bobby in a piece of blue plastic on the ground behind the station wagon."

"I noticed that Carl had blood on his face, coat, hands and arms. I helped him take off his coat which we folded inside out and placed it in the back of the station wagon and then Carl rolled up the sleeves of his shirt because they also were covered with blood."

Boy Started to Struggle and Fight

"I recall asking Carl at that point why he shot the victim and he told me he tried to strangle him but the cord was too short... and since the boy started to struggle and fight he had to dispose of him by shooting."

The confession went on to tell how the couple stopped at a tavern for some drinks on the way to Mrs. Heady's St. Joseph, Mo., home where a grave had been dug for the body the day before.

Mrs. Heady said the couple finally decided the day before the kidnapping that little Bobby had to be killed to shield them from possible identification.

"I am certain at the time of my arrest I had about $370,000 in the two suitcases and about $22,000 in my briefcase," Hall, in his confession, said.

Hall caught a glimpse of one of the suitcases later in a St. Louis police station, but said he never did see the other one or the briefcase again.

Two bills from the missing $300,000 have turned up in Michigan and one in Indiana, but there is no sign where the rest went.

St. Louis police officials investigated every officer connected with the case. Lieut. Louis Shoulters, who arrested Hall, resigned from the department in anger because of the inquiry.

Hall's confession also disclosed that he toyed with the idea of demanding a $1,000,000 ransom but decided on $600,000 because $1,000,000 in small bills would be too heavy to carry.

He revealed that he is a drug addict, in addition to being a heavy drinker.

lingness on the part of Mr. Truman and others around him to face the facts and a persistent delusion that Communist espionage in high places in our government was a red herring.

"And I believe you will conclude that this attitude, this delusion, may have resulted in great harm to our nation."

As the hearing opened, Sen. William E. Jenner said his subcommittee is investigating "a consummate and monstrous conspiracy" of Communism and spies in past administrations—not just the White case.

Pearson Blocked U.S. Espionage Probe, Says Lasky

NEW YORK (UP)—Author Victor Lasky charged today that Lester B. Pearson of Canada, former president of the United Nations General Assembly, has made a "determined effort" to block American investigation of Soviet espionage.

Lasky attacked the Canadian diplomat in a speech prepared for delivery before a meeting of the Women's National Republican Club. He said his statements were "an undisclosed aspect of the Harry Dexter White case."

The speaker, who was editor of a recent book called "The American-Legion Reader," accused Pearson of "consistently sabotaging U.S. efforts to unravel the skein of Soviet intrigue in Washington and Ottawa."

He referred specifically to a recent Canadian decision not to allow U.S. Senate committee investigators to question Igor Gouzenko.

SOCRED RIFT SUSPECTED

Gregory Notes Chant, Mrs. Arsens Inactive

Liberal Asks Why Neither Victoria Member Has Shared Platform With Gunderson

Suggestion of a rift in the ranks of the Social Credit Party was made by George Gregory at Oaklands School Monday night.

Liberal candidate in the November 24 provincial by-election, Mr. Gregory knocked Socred reasoning that Victoria needs the cabinet representation that would result from the election of Finance Minister Gunderson.

He pointed to Victoria MLA W. N. Chant as a sincere Socred of cabinet stature.

"Why don't they name Chant to the cabinet if the premier is sincere (in his references to the need for senior representation for this city)?" he asked.

"There is a rumor that it is because Mr. Chant might displace him as premier. Neither Mr. Chant nor Mrs. (Lydia) Arsens has appeared on a campaign platform with Mr. Gunderson." A rift is rumored, he said.

Then Mr. Gregory went on to the subject of taxation.

He scoffed at the finance minister's claim that the major taxes he has imposed have been aimed at shifting the burden from the small, individual taxpayer to natural resources and industry.

PUBLIC PAYS

"But," said Mr. Gregory, "there is only one set of taxpayers in B.C. Every tax imposed on industry sooner or later finds its way down and has to be paid for by Mr. and Mrs. Citizen . . . in increased prices or reduced wages, or both."

He warned that the taxation of improvements to 75 per cent of their assessed values will cost B.C. ratepayers a total of $10,000,000, according to estimates.

"In Victoria this year, improvements were taxed at 65 per cent of their assessed values, next year there will be an increase of ten per cent . . . If you rent the tax will be passed on as an increase in rent. Unless you live in a tree or a cave, you will not be able to escape."

The tax on industrial machinery and fixtures does not help the little man either, Mr. Gregory maintained.

He foresaw added difficulties in store for Victoria shipyards already hard put to compete with eastern and British firms. He prophesied the closing down of many secondary industries as a direct result of the tax.

Doncaster school teacher, Miss Catherine Shaw, also addressed the small meeting. She alleged that Premier Bennett could not trust many of his government members else why would he load the responsibility

Inaugural Show Boss Indicted for Lying

WASHINGTON (AP)—A man who played a leading role in planning the big inaugural show for President Eisenhower last January was indicted Monday on charges of lying when he denied trying to peddle influence for a fee.

A federal grand jury returned a three-count perjury indictment against Warren L. Stephenson, 53, who served as executive secretary of the Eisenhower inaugural committees. The charges grew out of Ste-

No Silk Hat On Government PM Tells Drew

St. Laurent Replies To Tory Charges

OTTAWA (CP)—Prime Minister St. Laurent says the government isn't wearing any silk hat.

The reference to the "Socialism in a Silk Hat" highlighted an argument between the two leaders in the Commons Monday as the throne speech debate began a weeks-long run.

Mr. Drew said last week's cabinet decision denying Canadian Pacific Airlines' application for a Vancouver-Montreal cargo service indicated a policy "which means the end of free competition where the government has entered any business."

Mr. St. Laurent replied the government believes in competition "when competition is apt to provide what is normally provided — a stimulus to better service."

BELIEVES IN COMPETITION
The cabinet, he said, decided that the government-owned Trans-Canada Air Lines was carrying efficiently all air cargo available and would be able to handle any increase in the foreseeable future.

Mr. Drew said: "The policies being followed by this government and now enunciated so clearly do constitute Socialist doctrine. This is socialism in a silk hat."

Mr. St. Laurent replied: "I suppose I should tip my socialist hat to him Mr. Drew on this occasion. . . I think we are all believers in competition."

But this did not mean unlimited competition. The subject of competition came up in a want-of-confidence motion moved by Mr. Drew.

QUEBEC CITY (BUP)—Claude Fortin of Montreal won a unanimous decision over Canadian welterweight champion Rocky Brisebois in a 10-round non-title bout here Monday night.

Alger Hiss to Get Second Chance To Obtain Parole

WASHINGTON (AP)—Alger Hiss will get another chance next Saturday at a parole from his five-year prison term.

A routine annual review of the case will be made at that time by the federal parole board, Dr. George C. Killinger, a board member, said Saturday.

Hiss will not appear or be questioned, and the board will meet in executive session. A decision will be announced a short time thereafter, Killinger said.

Hiss was convicted on January 25, 1950, on charges of lying under oath when he swore before a federal grand jury that he had never passed secret government documents to Whitaker Chambers, admitted courier for a pre-war Soviet spy ring.

Tugs Go to Aid Helpless Freighter

SEATTLE (AP)—Two tugs and a coast guard cutter were proceeding Tuesday from Oregon and the Aleutians toward the disabled freighter Margo, about 1,200 miles off the Oregon coast.

The ship, which lost a propeller Friday on a trip from Japan to the Columbia River, was not reported in any danger. The coast guard cutter Koiner, which was nearby when the distress call went out, remained at the scene.

Stephenson later changed his testimony and admitted he tried to make such an arrangement with the firm.

CPA Orders Fleet of Latest Type Comet-2 Jet Aircraft

VANCOUVER (BUP)—Canadian Pacific Airlines announced Monday that it had ordered a fleet of the latest type Comet-2 jet airplanes, to be delivered next fall, for use on its inter-continental routes from Vancouver to the South Pacific and South America.

CPAL president Grant McConachie said three of the 500-mile-an-hour jet transports had been ordered from De Havilland, England, for delivery next September, October and November. CPAL has an option on the purchase of a fourth Comet-2 for delivery early in 1955.

OLD MASTERS IN PARADE OF ART

Coronation Year Is Theme Of Costly Art Centre Show

Biggest attraction ever featured by the Arts Centre of Greater Victoria opens Wednesday with a surge of color and martial music.

An exhibition comprising original oils of famous British masters provides half the show. These paintings, by Sir Joshua Reynolds, Sir Henry Raeburn, Constable, Cotman, Crome and others, are valued at $80,000. Special guards and insurance have been obtained for this showing.

Completing the special Coronation year show is an exhibition of canvases by Molly Guion who spent two years in Britain capturing in paint the pageantry and ceremonial flavor of the crowning of Queen Elizabeth.

Opening the show will be pipers from the Canadian Scottish Regiment and a speech by Col. Walter Mosedale, commanding the Canadian Scottish Regiment, at 2 p.m.

A special preview will be at 11 a.m. and the gallery will close at 5:30 p.m. Hours on Sundays are from 2 to 5 p.m. and Friday, Saturday and Sunday evenings the displays will be open to the public from 7:30 to 9:30.

Gift to Okell Tribute From Ex-Servicemen

A presentation has been made to the assistant district administrator for the Department of Veterans' Affairs, S. H. Okell, on the occasion of his retirement.

Homeless After Fire
ST. MARTIN, Que. (BUP)—seven families were homeless Monday after fire destroyed five frame homes in this village some 10 miles north of Montreal.

Police said the Sunday fire started in a newly-built, unoccupied house and spread rapidly to the other homes. Firemen had to string out more than a mile and a half of hose to reach the nearest water main. No one was injured.

European Army Means 'Death' Opponents Cry

France Opens Debate Today

PARIS (Reuters)—Opponents of French participation in the European army charged today in the Chamber of Deputies that it would mean "death" for France.

The assembly opened a four-day debate on foreign affairs which is expected to culminate in a vote on a motion outlining its attitude toward the European army.

Its decision will determine the attitude to be adopted at the pending Bermuda conference by Prime Minister Joseph Laniel and Foreign Minister Georges Bidault. They are expected to be pressed by the United States and Britain for early ratification of the treaty setting up the European force.

Gen. Adolphe Aumeran, moderate Conservative who was first speaker in today's debate, said European integration would mean that "France was marching toward death." He urged that France retain her national individuality instead of submerging herself in a unified Europe.

NO REFUNDS REQUESTED

'Great Hoax' Book Having Good Sale

NEW YORK (CP)—New orders for copies of the "The Man Who Wouldn't Talk" were pouring in at the offices of its publishers Monday despite the admission by George Dupre of Calgary, its central character, that the tale is all a fabulous hoax.

Bennett Cerf, president of Random House, announced that by late Monday afternoon, 600 copies had been ordered by book sellers.

No one, Cerf added, has asked for a refund on the 10,000 copies already sold.

Coronation Medals For 100 RCN Ranks

More than 100 officers and men of the Royal Canadian Navy's Pacific Command have been awarded the Coronation Medal, in commemoration of the crowning of Her Majesty Queen Elizabeth II.

These awards are in addition to those made to officers and men of the Canadian Navy who took part in Coronation ceremonies in London in June of this year.

Names of the recipients and details of presentation ceremonies will be announced at a later date.

Dupre, who told the tale of his experiences at the hands of the Gestapo during the Second World War to author Quentin Reynolds, admitted last week the spy thriller he was passing off as fact was merely a frigate of his imagination.

Random House announced Sunday that it would reclassify the work as fiction and offered to refund the $2.75 purchase price of the book to anyone who had bought the book before the hoax was discovered.

Cerf predicted Monday that with the publicity the book has received, sales would warrant a second printing of 10,000 more copies. He said no action is planned by the publishing firm against Dupre.

'REVENUE FROM PROFITS'

New Taxes Don't Hit Consumer-Bennett

Premier Predicts Struggle Between B.C. And Municipalities in Field of Imposts

Premier W. A. C. Bennett said last night that Liberal allegations of increased taxes to consumers during the Social Credit administration was false.

He told a party rally "not one five-cent piece of new taxes has been placed on consumers."

On the contrary, he said, the $23,000,000 tax mentioned by the opposition party "was not a tax on the people, but revenue from timber and mining, out of profits and deductible from income tax."

He addressed the second by-election meeting held for Finance Minister Einar M. Gunderson, who also spoke. So did Public Works Minister P. Gagliardi and Attorney-General Robert Bonner.

The premier, termed opposition of the Social Credit party "a people's revolt against the spoils system," and said with party accomplishments in two short years it was "little wonder the Liberals hit us."

Such criticism, when faced with the facts of actual government accomplishments, was a "condemnation of the old line parties."

"They have a nerve! We have been in office two years," he reminded hearers.

In the budget speech of March, 1932, he said the provincial debt was $207 million net. "It is now $50 million less. No government in the history of Canada ever made such a reduction."

'Mess of Secret Orders and Patronage'

He termed the previous administration "a mess of secret orders, and patronage," and added: "We are fair to every economic group."

Mr. Bonner said of the opposition in the last two elections: "It seems they need only a speaker's manual and a pitch fork."

He said a struggle was coming in Canada between municipalities and provinces in the tax field as today "the provinces have not enough money left them to discharge their constitutional responsibilities."

For this reason, he said, in speaking on behalf of Mr. Gunderson, any government must address itself to the problem of finance for future success and stability.

Because of large unorganized areas in B.C., he said transportation links were the most expensive in the Dominion. "Roads cost from $150,000 to $200,000 a mile here, and about $30,000 average per mile elsewhere."

Mr. Gunderson said the assessment equalization tax had caused misunderstandings, but that it merely broadened the tax base, and makes it fair.

"This does not mean, he went on, that tax rates go up, but that equipment—industrial and commercial—earning profits helps pay for education."

"This helps reduce taxes on homes and small businesses," he said.

It did not apply to equipment such as rolling stock, tools or instruments.

Liberal statements regarding the Social Credit campaign Mr. Gagliardi called "diabolical perpetration."

Charges of "confusion" in Social ranks he refuted with: "No organization exists with so much unity. They dream at night of confusion in their own ranks."

He said party accomplishments had "thrown other parties into a tizzy. You would almost think we had done a crime by reducing the provincial debt for the people of B.C."

He said: "We saved $34 millions, and if that's bungling what in the name of common sense did they do in the last 25 years?"

As an instance of tax dollars saved he said road contracts were being let today for "from 20 to 50 per cent less than two years ago. Anybody can come down and look over the facts." Spirited bidding, he said, brought about a sharpening of

Four Recaptured After Breaking Nelson Jail

NELSON, B.C. (BUP)

Four prisoners including a murder suspect were back in the provincial jail here today after a short-lived escape bid that gave them only two hours' freedom.

Jail officials said they got out of the institution Monday night by slugging a guard and taking his keys. They were recaptured when they fled into the bush near here after a car in which they were trying to make their getaway was stopped at a police roadblock.

The four were identified as Darwin L. Sutherland, 21, who was awaiting trial on a murder charge; John H. Mitchell, 20, and Kenneth Martin, 19, both both serving a year for automobile theft; and Delore Gallant, 28, serving two weeks for vagrancy.

Sutherland was awaiting preliminary hearing on a charge that he murdered Edward Coelen, 19, of Kelowna, B.C., in September. He claimed he shot Coelen accidentally while they were on a hunting trip.

Body Found in Inner Harbor Identified as Missing Cook

Decomposed body of a man taken from the inner harbor Monday has been identified as that of Wong Sam, or Hon Wing, 52-year-old Victoria Chinese.

A cook on the Salvage King, he disappeared four days after the ocean-going tug caught fire and sank in the inner harbor four weeks ago.

Identity was established through Hong Yick Poy, of the Dart Coon Club. He told detectives he had given Wong a suit of clothes which bore his (Hong's) name on the inside of the vest. The name was found on the portion of the vest still on the body. It was the only identification mark.

The cook was reported by fellow countrymen to have been depressed after the ship fire.

A search of Chinatown failed to locate him. It was first believed he had gone to Vancouver, although detectives said "it is possible he returned to the ship and may have fallen into the harbor from the gangway."

He had lived aboard the Salvage King for 11 years.

The body is at McCall Bros. Funeral Parlor.

Kersey Would Sell Indian Lands To Pay for Model Tribal Village

Co-operation of Central Saanich council toward establishing a model Indian village on the East Saanich reserve and subdividing the West Saanich reserve for sale, would help to solve the problem of Indians here, W. C. Kersey said today.

Mr. Kersey, retired Saanich councillor, said the land now occupied by Indians on the West Road would bring $1,000,000 if subdivided.

"Right now the council collects no taxes from the reserves," he said. "If the council and federal government saw fit to follow my suggestion, then Central Saanich would gain, the Indians would be far better off, and the whole community would be improved."

He said that since the traditional livelihoods of the Indians have long since gone, they must work in regular jobs and would not need large holdings.

Therefore, he suggested: Move all the Indians from the West Road, Cole Bay, and Patricia Bay reserves to the 600 acres of the East Saanich reserve.

WOULD BRING MILLION

Subdivision of the 500-acre West Road reserve, "the most desirable residential property on the west side of the peninsula," would bring a return of at least $1,000,000, he said, which would more than re-establish the Indians in the new location.

"Then," he said, "Central Saanich council might contribute 50 per cent of the new taxes from the property to the Indian welfare fund for a period of 20 years. By that time a new generation would dominate that had been brought up in desirable conditions."

"The money from the property sale should provide modern homes, water and sewage services, good roads, schools, and other community needs on the East Road property," he said. "There is plenty of room there for all the Indians now on reserves."

He said that unlike other Indian bands in Canada that have natural resources to develop, the Saanich Indians must be assimilated to survive.

Mr. Kersey stressed that the Indians must have assurance that they would not be exploited under his plan, and that each individual would own his own dwelling and land.

In addition, he said, a long term policy of the federal government should consider full citizenship for Indians, education, religion, and a new approach to their social and economic conditions.

Agreement on Principles

MR. BENNETT SAID ON THE public platform the other night that there was no disagreement on basic principles within the Social Credit Government and party. The premier is to be taken at his word. There is no disagreement. All the government and party believe in the principles of Social Credit.

As Mr. Bennett himself has demonstrated, in public association with Mr. Low and Mr. Manning, at recent conventions, the British Columbia Government is primarily dedicated to a crusade which will make Canada the world's first Social Credit state, with all that involves.

Such is the policy and plan on which Mr. Gunderson is running in Victoria. It is true that he refuses, when questioned, to say whether he is a Social Credit or not. But to infer from this that he does not believe in the policies of his own government and repudiates the principles on which he is running is to say, in fact, that Mr. Gunderson is not an honest man. No one has the right to say that. It is only fair to assume that Mr. Gunderson, as an honest man, embraces the whole theory of Social Credit, the plan to enforce it throughout the society of Canada, the entire doctrine laid down by Mr. Low, Mr. Manning and the other national party leaders. If he did not, then Mr. Gunderson surely would resign from the Government.

As he has not resigned but is seeking election, Mr. Gunderson, in common honesty, is asking the people of Victoria to vote not for some vague theory but for certain specific policies. They include, among others, the following:

A system of national dividends to be paid to every Canadian, man, woman and child, without question, at a minimum rate of $25 a month. This was the rate fixed by Mr. Solon Low on April 15, 1945 but he promised then that the dividend would be increased as the nation's wealth grew. As it has roughly doubled since then, the promised dividend should now be something like $50 a month—all paid by the creation of new money out of thin air. That comes to about $9 billions a year, or twice the total amount now spent by the national government. The national budget therefore, is to be tripled immediately and financed by sheer monetary inflation, which would debase Canadian money and destroy all savings.

Secondly, the national government is to fix all prices and that, inevitably means that it must fix all wages. In case labor resists the Government's regulations, Mr. Low proposes a drastic penalty. "Because," he says, "people are not conditioned to freedom, during the initial period it would probably be necessary to make the (national) dividend conditional upon a man willing to accept employment under suitable conditions if his services were required for work he was qualified to do." This simply means that labor must work where the Government decides, at wages the Government fixes. Such complete regulation both of business and of labor will be essential, of course, once the state, after a gigantic inflation, undertakes to fix prices and, in fact, to manage everything.

Thirdly, Social Credit proposes to abolish children's allowances and unemployment insurance because, says Mr. Low, with national dividends, the need for them "would no longer exist." The public is therefore asked to give up this proved protection for national dividends to be financed by the creation of paper money without regard to its effect on prices.

Finally, Social Credit, itself a political party of the most centralized and best organized type, means, in Mr. Low's words, "the end of party politics—and possibly of general elections."

These are the principles of Social Credit on which Mr. Bennett says his entire Government and party are united. These are the policies of inflation and total state control on which Mr. Gunderson is running in Victoria. It is on them that the Victoria electors must vote. A vote for Mr. Gunderson, whether the voter knows it or not, is a vote for the Social Credit state in Canada.

Dr. Tom Jones

IN THE PRACTICE OF MEDICINE the late Dr. T. M. Jones followed in the footsteps of his distinguished father, Dr. O. M. Jones, the famous pioneer physician of Victoria. Between them the two men, father and son, provided this city with a service of incalculable value, spanning the better part of a century.

A doctor of high abilities, like these men, holds a very special place in any community. Perhaps more than the elected public servants and better known political figures of the times such men, by their quiet and selfless work, are the essential builders of the good society. It is literally true that thousands of people are alive and well today through the skill of two doctors who both died prematurely at the height of their powers and usefulness.

Tom Jones — for no one ever called that genial and friendly figure by any other name — was not only a great surgeon, recognized as such by medical men throughout America, but a great human being, whose spirit, communicated to his patients, whose boundless love for his fellow men and whose love of life were perhaps as potent in curing the sick as his technical skill.

His best tribute, after a life of unbroken service to his country in war and peace, is that he will be mourned not only as a doctor but as a friend by countless obscure folk who owe their lives to him. His own has been given ungrudgingly to his patients. They will never forget him.

Why Are the Socreds Ducking?

MR. GEORGE GREGORY'S challenge to debate with Mr. Einar Gunderson on the record of the Social Credit government, in open forum, has evoked a curious reaction. Mr. Gunderson has not thus far acknowledged the registered letter which was delivered to him last week. Instead, Attorney-General Robert Bonner, speaking "in behalf of Mr. Gunderson" (a man 20 years his senior) attempted to divert the issue by suggesting a free-for-all in which selected teams from each party would debate — at the final Social Credit rally!

Undaunted by the Socred refusal to meet on neutral grounds, Mr. Gregory said that he was quite willing to tackle the entire Social Credit party, before their own partisans, provided Mr. Gunderson would give him his personal assurance of a fair hearing. No such assurance has been forthcoming.

Lovers of fair play — in politics, war or sports — will draw their own conclusions from this affair. The prospect of the entire Socred heavy artillery duking the young Liberal gamecock is really one of the most delightful aspects of the campaign.

Skilled Hand at the Cradle

WHILE THE SUPPORTING argument is lacking in the brief newspaper report, Dr. Norman A. Mackenzie's advocacy in Quebec of more education for girls and women should be readily understood.

In far too many instances the suggestion is advanced that because girls seldom make extended use of education to earn a living — most of them retiring from the ranks of employees or withdrawing from careers in favor of marriage — the money spent on their academic training is wasted.

That opinion is not shared by sound educationalists. They recognize the importance of the old maxim that the hand which rocks the cradle rules the world. The mother, by common agreement, is potentially the greatest teacher in a child's life. The better she is equipped for her intellectual tasks, the more successful her job in raising the youngsters.

How Did He Score?

MASCULINE SYMPATHIES will, of course, be extended to the Detroit husband whose wife is suing for divorce merely because her spouse spanked her for mistakes in housekeeping.

Obviously the gentleman in question was seeking to correct the young lady's errors. Obviously, too, in his educational campaign to that end he rejected the progressive techniques — such as many individuals do in their attacks on school systems. He evidently recognized the merit of that classical approach which applied knowledge with the birch.

But the story on the divorce action and the husband's educational program is incomplete. It states that wife rebelled on Saturday night — when she was due for 105 wallops, the culmination of the week's lessons in household management.

The story lacks an essential set of facts. Why 105 spanks? What scoring system did hubby use?

LOOSE ENDS

By BRUCE HUTCHISON

The Pity of It

THERE are," says the Lethbridge Herald, with a fine impartiality, "two sides to every story, and the story of Winter is no exception. Some of us like it and others hate it. As far as we are concerned, we're neutral. There are some things about it that we like, and other things we dislike."

Hutchison That is a safe editorial position. It will antagonize neither the summer nor the winter men. It will attract subscribers from both camps. It sounds, indeed, like the platform of a political party.

But it is quite irrelevant to the situation prevailing on the Pacific coast of Canada, for here there is no basic weather issue to be angrily debated and somehow compromised in the give and take of the democratic process. Here we are all summer people because we never have any winter.

THAT is our misfortune and natural tragedy. The blessings of climate being denied to us by a gross injustice which we are powerless to rectify, we must consign ourselves forever to an inferior position, as second-class Canadians.

I say however that the Social Credit Government of British Columbia, which knows how to redistribute wealth by the principles of Major Douglas, will soon find a means of redistributing the weather, perhaps with a reasonable subsidy and national dividend of snow from the rich homeland of Alberta.

If we cannot have justice at least we can have some reasonable compensation. The generous Lethbridge Herald, shivering in the winds of the bald-headed prairies, would be the last to grudge us a morsel of its climate. The Alberta Government, which has been lavish, to the point of reckless prodigality, in its gifts of theoretical wisdom, surely will not refuse us a practical share of winter. I look to our statesmen for a little natural justice.

ONLY the coastal native can understand the cruel absence of the seasons, the deadening monotony of perpetual spring. Elsewhere in Canada a man can tell the time of year by the temperature. He is seldom in doubt about the arrival of winter. Here a man must consult the calendar to make sure it is November, and even the calendar helps little since its figures are usually denied by the thermometer.

LIFE BEFORE ECONOMY

Nanaimo Free Press

Over Remembrance Day there were eight fatal accidents in B.C., a number of them being traffic fatalities, and wet and slippery roads or highways, born of protracted rain, appear to have been a contributory cause.

It devolves upon car and truck drivers to be particularly careful under such conditions but there can also be such a thing as municipal or governmental responsibility where certain conditions require correction. There are a number of danger spots in the general Nanaimo area, particularly under wet conditions. One such is the newly-planked bridge over the Millstream in the Bowen Park area.

Under conditions such as exist at this bridge, and at other bridges or sharp road or highway turns elsewhere in this district, all the care in the world exercised by drivers is of little avail where conditions are unduly slippery from excessive rain, and these are instances calling for governmental attention. Economy has its place but not where human life is in danger.

ISLAND MINING

Cowichan Leader

Complaints have been made that the Esquimalt and Nanaimo Railway, now owned by the C.P.R., is retarding mining development on Vancouver Island.

The private owner of a mineral claim is compelled by law to do $100 worth of work annually in order to keep his claim. The E. & N. does not even bother to look for minerals. It consequently saves money by being completely unprogressive. This is not good enough. Mining could again become an important item in V.I.'s economy. It should become the objective of groups such as the chamber of commerce to determine what can be done to encourage development and to ascertain whether or not the (E. & N.) agreement constitutes a surmountable obstacle.

Indeed, no one can be sure that winter is under way without examining the trees to make sure their leaves have fallen, or the garden to see whether the first snowdrop is out. Apart from certain pagan rites and the appearance of a few old gentlemen, clad in red coats and false beards for commercial purposes, we would never suspect the arrival of Christmas and in any case, the role of Santa Claus has long since been taken over by our politicians.

THE man of more than usual sensitivity perhaps can note a subtle change in the weather at this season. He need not expect wind, such as more fortunate Canadians enjoy, but there may be a slight, almost imperceptible movement of air currents. He will not receive the cleansing and invigorating presence of frost but there may be a pale imitation of it, a faint glazing on the fenceposts and the lawn.

Occasionally, in our luckier years, a certain thin whiteness may relieve the drab green surface of the earth and that, with optimistic exaggeration and extravagant hope, may be claimed as an actual fall of what Canadians call snow. But at best these are poor, pathetic imitations of winter.

THE real thing, the blessed weather of Canada, is denied, making mock of our pretensions. Why, at this very moment, when the hearty gust and cheerful crunch of winter spreads across the continent, the green points of daffodils are thrusting themselves impudently through coastal surface to announce the dreaded onslaught of spring. The yellow flowers of jasmine are about to burst open and remind us of our imprisonment. The roses refuse to stop blooming, dulling our senses with their anaesthetic perfumes. The heathers already are leaping into summer with official proclamations of pink bloom. The gardener toils as usual on reverent knees, without hope of that merciful release which now rescues his fellows east of the Coast Range.

NO WINTER, no distinguishable seasons at all, no time off from our labors, none of the concessions freely granted to other Canadians — that is our tragedy. Unlike the Lethbridge Herald, we have no choice and no escape. Out of long experience and a character peculiarly noble we shall bear our fate without a whimper. Other Canadians will complain, heedless of their superior fortune. We will endure our slings and arrows, we will suffer our unnatural martyrdom, dumb and helpless to the end.

BRUSH YOU OFF, SUH!

Twin Cities Times

Visitors to this district from non-industrial areas are likely to feel a trifle annoyed when their cars become covered with fly-ash from our mills. Perhaps clean and shining when they arrive, they show signs of contact with the lumber industry after only a short stay in the Twin Cities.

A Port Alberni businessman has come up with a suggestion which could alleviate this annoyance. He suggests a free car-wash for every departing motorist, who wishes to take advantage of the good-will gesture.

The system is in effect in Trail, he has heard. An arch is provided near the city limits and the visitor drives his car over an automatic switch to turn jets of water onto the car.

We believe that such an installation here would be a good thing for public relations, showing that we are concerned with the goodwill of our visitors.

ELECTIONS COMING UP

Saanich Peninsula and Gulf Islands Review

This week's issue of The Review announces that a number of residents of this area have decided to contest vacancies on municipal councils in Central Saanich and the Village of Sidney in the December elections. Others, no doubt, are already giving serious consideration to running in the elections.

The annual balloting is now less than one month away. Time is running short. Judging by the scant attendance at meetings of the governing bodies in both Central Saanich and Sidney during the past year, the public is pretty well satisfied with the job being done by its elected representatives. But it's wise that elections roll around once a year to give the ratepayers their day in court and decide who is to govern their destinies during the next period of time.

Now He Really Has Something to Cry About

As Our Readers See It

WEATHERED OAKS

Many Victorians will support Mayor Harrison in his bid to save the condemned trees in Beacon Hill Park.

The desire to cry "unsafe" and to slaughter park trees because they appear old and worn is a thoughtless policy, for the twists and weatherbeaten appearance of aged oaks adds to their charm.

It is a pity that Beacon Hill Park has no tree with a story worth preserving, like the tree in which Bonny Prince Charles hid to escape the fate Victoria's twelve ancient oaks anticipate.

DENIS H. BESLEY.

SIGN OF CONTEMPT?

The shameless statements of the minister of finance that the only issue in this by-election is whether or not Victoria is to be represented by a cabinet minister shows once again the contempt which this man feels for the intelligence of the voters.

The unwarranted and unjustified taxes on the veterans' clubs, clubs whose membership is made up of men and women who have offered to die for their country, is one of many issues on which the public should vote.

Mr. Gunderson, who is not a veteran, can hardly be expected to understand the feeling that returned men have for their organizations.

MRS. D. PETERS.

3044 Orilla Street.

TWO SOCRD PARTIES

The double-tongued line-up of the Social Credit politicians came well into view during the recent B.C. convention at Vancouver, when delegates from all constituencies met to discuss policies and to elect a new set of party officers.

Before the convention ended it became quite evident there were to be two "Social Credit" parties in the province. As one delegate expressed it: "There's pseudo-Socred in the Legislature and honest Socreds outside among the grass-roots."

The greatest slam and expression of non-confidence in the Bennett Cabinet, after more than a year of its faithless rule, came when the chairman (who was Tom Irwin, the Mr. Speaker of the Legislature) found himself confronted with a motion to block the appointment of Bennett, or any of his cabinet ministers, to the executive board of the official B.C. Social Credit association.

It soon developed that this "Douglas motion" also effectively barred most if not all of the presently elected Socred MLAs from being officers of the authentic party organization. From there on the convention went all out for the Major Douglas funny-money ideas. The real machine showed itself.

Victoria! Let's vote Liberal and avoid all this double-tongued mystery and financial uncertainty.

H. V. O'REILLY.

Straightening the Record Again

In Thursday night's radio speech Mr. Gunderson again referred to the reduction in debt of $34,000,000 by the "Socred" Government. While I have covered this completely in my articles "Let's Keep the Record Straight," I want to refer to a financial statement which carries the signature of an official of the Department of Finance which appeared in an article of November 12 in "Social Credit Keeps You Informed."

On page 14 of my Budget Speech the net debt figure which the "Socreds" use appears as at February 1, 1952, at $191,091,839.01. In arriving at this figure, sinking funds are shown as $17,258,897.25 at February 1, 1952.

In the statement which appears in "Social Credit Keeps You Informed," to arrive at the net debt of $157,023,087.68 at June 30, 1953, the sinking funds are shown as $67,602,667.14. In other words, the "Socred" Government are taking full credit to themselves in debt reduction for an increase in the sinking funds from February 1952 to June 30, 1953, of $20,343,769.89.

The fact that the only contribution the "Socred" Government made to the sinking funds is in the Budget presented by Mr. Gunderson in February, 1953, which covers a period of three months, April, May and June of 1953, goes to show how far the "Socreds" will go to mislead the people of British Columbia into believing that by their magic they have reduced the debt by $34,000,000.

STAY IN VICTORIA

In answer to a letter in the Daily Times re room and board, signed "Enquirer."

I am one of those board and room operators and have never felt it necessary to deduct for "holidays."

The room and board are here for them and if they don't feel they can afford a holiday, stay in Victoria and use your room and board is my answer.

QUESTION OF DEFINITION

It is refreshing to see the activities of a Christian group made public on the front page of a daily newspaper.

The news item, in issue of the Times of November 13, contains the statement that "Every member of Jehovah's Witnesses is a minister of the Gospel, and is recognized as such by the Supreme Court of the United States." That being true, I am rather curious as to why ministers of the Gospel are referred to, in this instance, as "a sect" or why applied to them particularly in a seemingly derogatory fashion.

Most of us know the Lord's Prayer, "Thy kingdom come." Do we pray for that, while deriding those who preach the fulfilling of that petition to our Creator? Maybe deriding is the wrong word, but "sect" seems to set others apart from ourselves, doesn't it?

MORE KIPLING

You must be getting weary of G. Shrapnel's insistence that Rudyard Kipling did not write the verse about Victoria.

She only has to go to the Public Library and ask for his Collected Verse and look up The Song of the Cities and she will find without a doubt that he did write it.

Again, no one who gets over-excited about East and West bothers to read to the end of the verse opening the Ballad of East and West:

"But there is neither East nor West, border, nor breed, nor birth When two strong men stand face to face, tho' they come from the ends of the earth!"

This can also be found in Collected Verse, Mr. or Miss Shrapnel should do a bit of digging into Kipling and find out what he was driving at!

For myself and my associates, I am grateful, as it has given us a nice little bit of publicity. May I take this opportunity to thank your reporter, Mr. Dickason, for such a nice write-up. He took the trouble to get his facts right!

Facts Behind the 'Frauds'

THE traveler leaving Hong Kong for Saigon is also leaving the immediate area of Chinese Communist pressure in Asia for the area that is probably next in line. This is a good time to take stock, in a preliminary way, of American policy in the Far East. But it may as well be said that the results are both melancholy and shocking.

Item by item, as one goes down the list of activities that pass for American policy here, one finds that the goods in the stockroom are not as represented at home, or simply are not there at all. A firm that carried on its business with such a stockroom would have trouble with the law.

A characteristic experience of the traveler here was a discovery this reporter made on Formosa. Back home, the U.S. State Department is making loud, bold noises, in deference to such members of the Senate as William Knowland of California, about vetoing the entry of the Chinese Communists into the United Nations. But this is strictly a phony.

REAL FACTS

At the very beginning of the Eisenhower administration, none other than the Chinese Nationalist Foreign Minister, the able George Yeh, put the real facts before Secretary of State John Foster Dulles and UN Representative Henry Cabot Lodge Jr.

At the sixth session of the United Nations General Assembly, the American delegation went officially on record that the choice between two rival governments—for example, between the Chinese Communists or Nationalists—as the proper representatives of their country, was not subject to a UN veto. We simply do not have the weapon our leaders still talk about using.

In the present state of UN opinion, the Communists are sure to be admitted in the end, which will be a major setback for the U.S. cause. The other UN nations are made obstinate by the rigid stand of the United States, refusing to discuss either recognition of the Communists or their admission to the UN. This stand serves no useful purpose except to appease the Senate.

But the problem can easily be solved if Secretary Dulles will only forget the Senate and make a little speech as follows:

"We don't think it matters very much, and we're quite ready to open formal diplomatic relations with Peking providing Peking isn't going to treat our representative as a 'Negotiations Commissioner,' which has happened to the British.

IN HOLLYWOOD

By BOB THOMAS

Jerry Lewis Real Trouper

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Despite having his knee in a brace, Jerry Lewis is living it up in the picture of the same name.

There have been reports that the zany member of the Martin and Lewis team is 'ailing.' He added substance to the reports when he took a tumble while subbing for Lou Costello on The Comedy Hour and injured his knee again. But he isn't letting such matters slow him down.

When I saw him in his Paramount dressing room he was playing songs from his current picture and going through wild contortions of the dance numbers. He seemed as nimble as a jitterbug with the seven-year itch. But when he sat down for a quiet chat, he favored the left leg.

"It's all right when I stand up, because the leg is in a natural position," he explained. "But I can't bend it when I sit down. I have to keep it up on a table or something. If I don't, I'll fall on my face when I get up."

Lewis isn't letting this trouble slow down the pace that he and his crooning partner have been finishing in the last few years. As soon as they finish their picture, they'll take off for eight one-night stands in Texas.

Lewis made no secret of his happiness over "Living It Up," the first big property that has been purchased for the team. It is taken from the recent stage hit, "Hazel Flagg," which in turn was taken from the Carole Lombard-Fredric March movie, "Nothing Sacred." The producers pulled a switch and Jerry is playing the Lombard role.

He remarked that the picture will cost $2,500,000, which is quite a difference from their first big hit, "At War With the Army." That one ran $400,000.

SYNOPSIS—A slow build-up of the coast has cleared out much of the cloud over the province. Temperatures fell sharply over of barometric pressures along night with Vancouver reaching 27 degrees. Coldest spot in the Interior was Prince George at 21 degrees. The present spell of settled, cool weather will continue Wednesday.

Salon Photos Reveal Many-Faceted Beauty

By HUMPHREY DAVY

Standing on a windy peak in the Swiss Alps after many hours of climbing a steep mountain side, crossing a treacherous glacier filled with yawning crevasses, a camera artist looked through the view finder of his camera.

Framed on the glass of his camera was a strange world of snow and ice—a cold, austere and fantastically beautiful. He clicked the shutter and in an instant the "vision" was recorded for all time.

Somewhere on the Atlantic on the deck of a motor boat, another photographer waited for hours to take a "perfect picture" of a pleasure sailboat. The moment came towards the end of the day when a boat, fully rigged, cut through the water homeward bound. It had taken him six hours to get the picture he wanted.

These are only two examples of the time and work spent by amateur photographers in taking some of the pictures which are hanging at the 13th Annual Victoria International Salon of Photography at the Empress Hotel this week. The exhibition is open to the public.

The salon has over 300 prints taken by camera artists from all parts of the world. The photographs depict all phases of life and nature... its beauty, joys and sorrows. There are several prints showing remarkable ingenuity and imagination.

Among some of the unusual prints is one named "Bathing Beauty" depicting two goldfishes. It was taken by Yu-Chiu cheung of Hong Kong. Another original print is entitled "Sky-jack from Mars" by Vima Haffer, Tacoma, Washington.

The prints show that photographers of different nationalities have their own ideas of beauty and what a photographic print should look like. Their choice of subjects also varies greatly. For instance, buildings, shapes and forms seem to be favorite subjects of U.S. photographers and are somewhat cold when compared with works of French and other Latin photographers.

The Chinese appear to excel in technical skill. The works of Canadian camera artists are excellent and hold their own against the foreign prints.

One of the features of the salon is a special display of portraits of Queen Elizabeth and members of the Royal Family taken by Dorothy Wilding and Baron Studios of London, Eng., for the Coronation.

Some of the portraits taken by Dorothy Wilding are amazingly good. One, in particular, is a portrait of the Duke of Windsor when he was Prince of Wales. Here the artist captured something about the prince which makes the print stand out above all others of the same type.

"Again, if our allies really want it and there is no interference with Formosa, we shouldn't even object very much to seeing the Chinese Communists in the UN. But there is just one little condition that really has got to be met in full, before anybody, including our allies, can consider these steps. The Chinese Communists have got to start acting like civilized members of the world community, in Korea and Indo-China for instance. Let that test once be met, and we'll go along."

Of course the test never will be met. Yet such a speech will pull the rug out from under the wool heads in London and the appeasers elsewhere. Once we have taken this irrefutably reasonable and non-political stand, the other members of the UN will have no alternative but to back us up. Hence, instead of the ultimate admission of the Chinese Communists to the UN being pretty inevitable, which is what the U.S. wants.

The big, empty talk to keep the Senate sweet is just one of the frauds.

Another fraud is the portrayal of Japan as a bastion of power out here, when Japanese rearmament cannot possibly produce real results for years to come. Still another fraud is the situation on Formosa. What we have done there is good as far as it goes. But on the one hand, the Generalissimo's armies are aging. If we want these armies to return to the mainland, we have to make up our minds about it. More investment for larger forces will be needed. So will American air, naval and logistical support. The job must be done within not more than two or three years.

On the other hand, if we want the Generalissimo merely to defend Formosa, he needs smaller force of a different kind, and he needs to base his plans on this prospect. In Formosa, in short, simple indecisiveness is now vitiating a most valuable asset.

"WORST ERROR"

Finally, the Korean truce has been worse than a fraud. This reporter, who thought the truce was justified though painful when he came out here, is now convinced (along with almost every sensible man in the Far East) that the truce was the worst error of American policy in many years.

The truce has given the Communists a let-up when the strain of the war had brought them almost to the breaking point. Before long, it will set free in Asia the powerful Communist forces now in Korea which no other Asian country can match. Later it will give them the happy opportunity of building immeasurably more powerful forces for which there is no counterweight whatever anywhere in the Far East. Far from preparing such a counterweight, meanwhile, the U.S.A. is slowing down its defense effort in the sacred name of economy.

ISLAND DIGEST

DUNCAN—Directors of the Vancouver Island Ayrshire Club have chosen Archie Stevenson, Cowichan Station, as their nominee for B.C. director in the Canadian Ayrshire Breeders' Association.

Ballots must be mailed by Nov. 30.

Mr. Stevenson and a brother have a herd of 100 registered Ayrshire cattle on their 1,000-acre farm at Cowichan Station.

NANAIMO—Newly-installed officers of the BPOE here are: Allan Woodcock, exalted ruler; D. S. Dunn, leading knight; K. Roley, loyal knight; J. W. Allen, lecturing knight; T. D. James, secretary; J. J. Dickinson, treasurer; J. W. Clark, esquire; W. Prendergast, chaplain; H. Dowbiggin, inner guard; J. S. Dunn, tyler; J. Benny, M. Poje and C. McGarrigle, trustees.

DUNCAN—Officers elected to the Cowichan Exhibition Board Monday were: George Evans, president; Archie Stevenson, L. W. Morrill, and Mrs. Jack Young, vice-presidents; Van T. Shindler, honorary treasurer; secretary-manager is W. S. Sharp.

SOOKE—A program of vocal solos, instrumental numbers, and a one-act play staged by Sooke Players, was enjoyed by an audience of 250 at the annual Variety Night presented by Sooke Branch, Canadian Legion.

NANAIMO—Funeral services will be held here Wednesday for Mrs. Fanny Harrol, 89, native of Yorkshire and resident here since 1906, who died in hospital Monday.

Her husband died in 1936. Surviving are a son in Australia and four daughters in Nanaimo and Vancouver.

NANAIMO—Mrs. R. Bing, partially blind resident, was robbed of her purse Saturday night by a young hoodlum who said "hand over your purse or I'll smash your face in."

Mrs. Bing is usually accompanied by her seeing-eye dog. She said the purse had contained little cash, but some valuable papers.

SIDNEY—Sidney and North Saanich Volunteer Fire Department will retire its original fire truck, built in the last years of the war on a 1934 chassis, and will begin construction of another truck on a second-hand three-ton chassis.

Equipment from the old truck will be used.

Another larger unit already is in service at the fire hall.

3-Way Fight for CCF Leadership in Ontario

TORONTO (CP)—Three candidates have announced they will contest the leadership of the provincial CCF party at its convention here next week-end.

Fred Young, 46, political action representative of the United Steelworkers of America, CIO-CCL, announced his bid Monday night. Previously Don MacDonald, national organizer of the party, and Andrew Brevin, Toronto lawyer, announced they will be candidates.

While crossing Burrard Bridge he discovered he was trailing the missing car. He rammed the car and locked bumpers.

Police took a juvenile into custody, charging him with car theft.

PRAIRIE ROUND-UP

New Edmonton Polio Epidemic Thought to Have Reached Peak

EDMONTON (CP)—Health authorities kept close watch today on a fresh polio outbreak that has shattered records set by last year's major epidemic.

Officials said they believe the outbreak, which brought Edmonton a total of 231 cases, 136 more than last year, has reached its peak. The disease has claimed 10 lives in the city, compared with seven during 1952.

The new outbreak became noticeable two weeks ago, long after the seasonal summer decline of polio was reported. The provincial total now stands at 1,164 cases against 774 for 1952. Alberta's death rate is at a high of 80, two more than last year.

Dr. G. M. Little, Edmonton medical health officer, said Monday the trend of infection indicates the peak has been reached. More adults than children are catching the disease which is "usual at the tail-end of an epidemic," he said.

The fresh outbreak put a strain on city hospitals. There is still an urgent need for nurses and trained physiotherapists.

Hospitals, caught without enough iron lungs, had the RCAF fly in eight from Winnipeg and Calgary and 12 from Boston.

Health authorities said they believe a new virus, stronger than the one which caused last year's epidemic, is responsible for the unusually high rate. Dr. Little said cases this year are more severe than those of 1952.

OIL PRODUCTION

CALGARY (CP)—Alberta's 4,376 oil wells in the week ended November 9 produced a daily average of 252,868 barrels of crude, an increase of 70,928 barrels over the previous week and up 65,238 barrels from output of 3,499 wells in the same 1952 period.

Redwater again led in field production with a daily average of 74,870 barrels from 927 wells. Leduc-Woodbend followed with 68,530 barrels from its 1,220 wells and Bonnie Glen with 21,438 barrels from its 78 producers.

MURDER TRIAL DELAYED

CALGARY (BUP)—Court officials today looked for an interpreter so they could start the delayed trial of a 29-year-old Romanian immigrant charged with killing his wife.

He Petricu faced trial twice before on a charge of strangling his wife, Magdalena, Sept. 8, but both hearings were halted because there was no Romanian-speaking interpreter available.

Justice Hugh J. McDonald ruled that one was necessary although Petricu can speak and understand simple English.

McDonald refused Monday to try Petricu without a jury, although the Romanian immigrant had twice elected trial by judge alone.

The judge said trying the case alone would be a responsibility "I will not assume" and said there was nothing in Alberta law which required him to take such a burden as trying such a case.

Petricu walked into the Calgary police station the day his wife died and said she met with an accident.

Socreds Blue Tories, CCF Veteran Charges

Dorothy Steeves Supports Matthews, Heaping Fiery Coals on Government

A veteran campaigner and a first-time candidate for the CCF joined forces to blast Social Credit policies and election tactics Monday night.

Speaking at the Business and Professional Women's Club, Mrs. Dorothy Steeves, former MLA, and Albert Matthews, candidate in the Nov. 24 by-election, concentrated most of their fire on the Socreds.

Mrs. Steeves, who acted as official observer for the CCF at the recent session of the Legislature, attacked the government for throttling debate.

"In all my years in the House, with various premiers in power, I have never seen such a spectacle of complete refusal to answer questions and to comply with the ancient rights of the opposition," she said.

The issue in this by-election, she said, is between the "new co-operative socialist way of life, and the parties of greed, whether they call themselves coalition or Social Credit. 'Social Crediters,' she added, 'are the Tories of Tories, the bluest of blues.'

She charged the government with "shopping" for constituencies for their cabinet ministers. "Now they want to shove Gunderson down our throats," she said.

UNDEMOCRATIC

There is no democracy in holding a by-election for the mere convenience of the government, she said. "This is a by-election to suit one group, not the people."

Mrs. Steeves attacked the government's new school financing plan, claiming it has thrown school boards and teachers into a state of confusion and uncertainty.

"The so-called Rolston formula, that misbegotten product, came out of the brain of Mr. Gunderson," she said.

Mr. Matthews criticized heavy advertising spending by the Social Credit party. "Is there any doubt in your mind where the money is coming from?" he asked. "This election simply shows the shift of big business support from Liberals and Conservatives to Social Credit."

"Liberals and conservatives

DEADLINE SET FOR EUROPEAN PARCELS HERE

Have you friends in Continental Europe? Today is the Christmas parcel mailing deadline, and Saturday is the deadline for letters and parcels to Great Britain.

Air mail parcels Europe-bound should be off by Dec. 12 and for Great Britain by Dec. 14. Air mail letters for Europe should go by Dec. 14 and those for Great Britain Dec. 16. All Christmas parcels should be marked "gift parcel." Value of parcels sent to other countries without export permits must not exceed $25.

admit they get money from big business, but Social Credit has not gotten around to being honest."

He said the most important issue at stake was the gradual expansion of social security measures to all citizens, regardless of their ability to contribute to the economy.

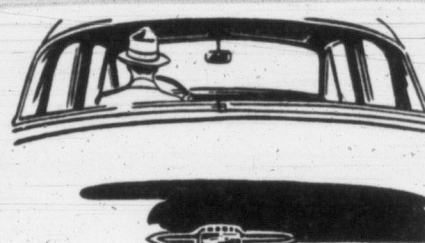

You're "sitting pretty" behind the wheel

Take this Bel Air model. First thing you'll notice is the quality of the interior. Rich-looking upholstery and appointments — color-matched to the exterior color. Roomy, comfortable seats with foam rubber cushions. Chevrolet, you know, has the world-famous Body by Fisher — and you can certainly tell the difference in quality and workmanship! Just turn the ignition key to start the engine and you're ready to go.

You get more power on less gas

Here's all the power and performance you could ever ask for. And along with it comes the most important gain in economy in Chevrolet history! That's because Chevrolet's two great valve-in-head engines are high-compression engines. In Powerglide® models you get the most powerful engine in Chevrolet's field — the new 115-h.p. "Blue-Flame." Gearshift models offer you the new 108-h.p. "Thrill-King" engine.

You can see all around

You see all the road ahead and see it close in. For you look out and down through a wide, curved, one-piece windshield that sweeps back to narrow corner posts. The panoramic rear window and big windows provide a clear view in all directions. And, as an option at extra cost, you can enjoy the extra comfort and safety of GM Shade-Lite Tinted Glass, with exclusive, graduated windshield tinting.

Jumbo-Drum brakes for smoother, easier stops

You'll feel safe and secure with these greatly improved Chevrolet brakes under your foot. An easy nudge on the brake pedal brings smooth, positive response — right now! With their 11-inch drums, Chevrolet brakes are extra large for extra safety. Bonded brake linings last up to twice as long as the more common riveted type.

was ahead in every way after this demonstration!

A Smoother and a Safer Ride

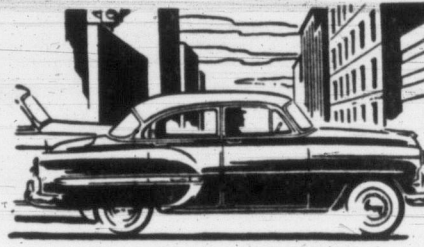

Chevrolet has ample weight to give a good, road-hugging ride. It isn't just weight that's been added indiscriminately, it's weight that comes from Chevrolet's extra strength, weight that means extra protection and safety because it's been utilized in strengthening body and frame. What's more, Chevrolet is the lowest priced car with Unitized Knee-Action.

And it's the lowest-priced line

A demonstration will show you that Chevrolet offers just about everything you could want. Yet it's the lowest-priced line in the low-price field. So what's the point in paying more — today and over the months ahead? You can be ahead in every way with a new Chevrolet!

*Combination of Powerglide automatic transmission and 115-h.p. "Blue-Flame" engine optional on "Two-Ten" and Bel Air models at extra cost.

You get greater getaway with the new Powerglide*

A lot finer performance on a lot less gas. That's what you get with the new Powerglide automatic transmission. Now you're automatically in "low" range for standing starts and for quick passing in city traffic. Then — automatically again — you slip smoothly into "cruising" range as you pick up speed. There's no finer or more advanced automatic transmission at any price.

Even Power Steering, if you want it

Just like the highest-priced cars, Chevrolet offers you the amazing convenience of Power Steering on all models. You ought to try Power Steering to see how easy driving can be. Even standing still, you can spin the wheel with one finger! Yet there's nothing new to learn and you actually have safer control under all conditions. It's optional, of course, at extra cost.

Sacred Claim of Debt Reduction 'Pure Distortion', Says Gibbs

The Social Credit government's detail-lacking "bald announcement" of a lump sum $34,000,000 debt reduction is "pure distortion, misleading and most unfair if not actually within the realm of dishonesty," Mr. Gibbs said. $10,500,000 in the 1953-54 budget, was set aside for sinking funds and could be legitimately applied to debt reduction after April 1, 1953. But, he said, the remaining $20,500,000 has been taken from 1952-53 surplus "which the government has appropriated for debt reduction before obtaining the authority of the Legislature."

"No wonder Mr. Gunderson is perturbed," he said. He said this surplus is to the credit of the Johnson government because it was Mr. Johnson's budget which laid the fiscal policy for 1952-53.

The Socreds, he said, can be credited with some "sleight of hand" but they have no right to claim credit for the debt cuts.

Mr. Gibbs said he wrote to Mr. Gunderson Oct. 26 asking for information on funds applied to debt reduction, and so far hasn't even received acknowledgment of the letter.

Mr. Gibbs also claimed Finance Minister Gunderson has committed B.C. in 12 months to $37,500,000 in extra debt through borrowings for schools, B.C. Power Commission, bridges and roads, while levying taxes that will cost every person in the province an additional $6.

Five Victorians To Be Invested Into Old Order

St. John Officials Will Be Honored

Five Victorians will be among a group of British Columbians to be invested into the Grand Priory in the British Realm of the Venerable Order of the Hospital of St. John of Jerusalem to be held at 3:30 p.m. in Government House Thursday.

Several high ranking officials of the order will attend the investiture.

Victorians to be invested are: Dr. W. W. Bell, corps surgeon; Mrs. Marion H. Aitken, R.N., corps nursing officer; Mrs. Mable F. Sampson, superintendent of Victoria cadet nursing division; Mrs. Elsie Humble, superintendent of Oak Bay nursing division; and Miss Gladys Hewlings, cadet area officer.

Daily Dusting

Years of medical research sponsored by the Ontario Mining Association may have found the answer to silicosis, the disease which attacks the lungs of miners exposed to silica dust. Curiously enough, the treatment consists of breathing very fine aluminum dust directly into the lungs; the aluminum renders the silica particles harmless. The treatment has been adopted in gold and other mining areas in Canada and throughout the world.

Aluminum, long used in hospital kitchens, today serves the medical profession in many ways—from aluminum foil for covering serious burns, to aluminum acetate for medical dressings, to aluminum blenders for the preparation of sterile biological products. Aluminum Company of Canada, Ltd. (Alcan)

Vancouver Would Name School 'Churchill'

(CP) — Sir Winston Churchill will be asked for permission to use his name for one of Vancouver's new schools, School Board officials announced Monday.

High school principals in this area may soon be asked to organize clubs for students who might be interested in becoming teachers.

Such clubs were suggested in a recent issue of the publication, "The B.C. School Trustee," as a means of interesting more young people in the teaching profession.

John Gough, municipal school inspector, told the Greater Victoria School Board Monday night the matter was being given serious consideration.

BRISBANE, Australia (Reuters) — Lightweight boxer Roy Chapman, 22, died in hospital Saturday after collapsing at the end of 12 gruelling rounds at Brisbane Stadium Friday night.

Roger's Claim Recalled by Andy's Spree

Hebenton Gets Four Goals As Cougars Trim Stamps

Victoria 5, Calgary 3

By BILL WALKER

It was two years ago come the Christmas season and then coach Roger Leger was in mood befitting the festive occasion as the Cougars tossed their annual press party. And if memory serves correctly the prophecy that Roger uttered was: "Hebenton—he can't miss making the NHL." Since that time—Roger has departed, but Andy Hebenton has not yet received that chance with the Montreal Canadiens and the NHL. Various reasons have been advanced—one probably being Hebenton's lack of scoring potential in relation to the NHL. But apparently not so now. And, if Roger had been in the stands Monday night at Memorial Arena, he could well have turned to his neighbor and said: "I told you so."

For Mr. Andrew Hebenton put on his most scintillating performance of the season as the Cougars defeated Calgary Stampede, 5-3, to move into a third-place tie with New Westminster Royals, whom they meet here Friday.

But that is only one chapter of the Hebenton story.

A week ago tonight, Hebenton was among those whom coach Bill Reay chastigated for a 4-3 loss to Vancouver Canucks.

Eleven Points in Three Games

Friday was his first chance at atonement and Andy got two goals and one assist in the Cougars' 5-3 win over the Royals; Saturday he got three assists as his linemate, Colin Kilburn, scored three goals in the Cougars' 6-3 triumph over Seattle Bombers.

Then last night he excelled himself. He scored four goals—the first Cougar to do so since Roy McKay turned the trick in Vancouver in 1950—and he drew an assist on the other goal scored by Kilburn.

That is a total of six goals and five assists in three games and a season's output of 10 goals and 11 assists for 21 points, which puts Andy within three points of the league scoring leader, Frank Ashworth of Calgary, who has 24.

The latest Hebenton chapter started at the 7:02 mark of the first period when he, skated from behind the Calgary net to beat goalie Bill Brennan with a high shot to the corner.

At 12:20, Kilburn somehow got the puck past Brennan—even the goal judge doesn't know how—and Hebenton got an assist. Matter of fact, Kilburn called the goal as Brennan appeared to be the only other person in the arena who knew where the puck was after the Cougar winger had slapped at loose puck off the corner of the net.

Game-wise, the Stamps replied before the period's end through Pat Lundy on a deflected shot from George Pargeter's drive and Ashworth who hanged home Archie Scott's rebound which caromed off the post.

Master of Deflection, Too

At 8:34 of the second period Hebenton got his second goal, deflecting Ross Lowe's shot from the blue-line by Brennan to give the Cougars a 3-2 edge. His third goal at 5:02 of the third period was almost identical with his first, in method, except that it was a double deflection drive that left Brennan no chance whatever.

Pargeter, left unchecked in front of the Cougar goal (and incidentally being marked by Hebenton), gave the Stamps hope at 1:49 when he beat Ralph Almas on a pass out from John Michaluk and Pat Lundy to reduce the deficit to 4-3.

But Hebenton was quick to make up for this omission after Sam Bettis had missed a good chance from Ed Dorohoy, the Cougars predominating in play. Given a clean break from just outside the Cougar blue-line, he went in alone on Brennan, pulled the Calgary goalie out of position and slid the puck in the open corner.

Yes, Roger Leger would have been pleased, just as the approximately 4,800 fans who sat in on the performance undoubtedly were.

For it was the Cougars' third straight triumph, their third game in which they have scored five goals or more and a triumph which brought them to the 500 mark at home this year for the first time.

No tears were shed for the fact that it was the Stampede's fourth straight defeat on the coast and their eighth of the year, a total matched by Royals and Cougars and only surpassed by the league-leading Canucks, who Monday night dropped only their second decision of the season to Saskatoon.

Kilburn, Hebenton's wingmate, supplied an opinion shared by many concerning Hebenton's performance: "Nobody deserved it more," he said.

Quakers Gain Ground By Blanking Canucks

SASKATOON (CP)—The rampaging Saskatoon Quakers scored their fourth straight Western Hockey League victory Monday night when they blanked the league-leading Vancouver Canucks 3-0. A near-capacity crowd of 4,500 watched the action filled game in which Quakers won going away in the last period, to hand the Canucks their second loss in 18 games.

Saskatoon scoring came from all three Quaker forward lines with Eddie Kobussen, Vic Howe and Jackie McLeod getting the goals. The goals resulted from smooth passing three-way plays and Vancouver goalie Lorne Worsley, a former Quaker, was well beaten each time.

Worsley was the backbone of the Canucks and blocked 35 shots, 14 more than the Saskatoon goalie Chuck Rayner, who recorded his second shutout of the season.

HARD HITTING DEFENSE

Quakers defensemen, particularly Jack Evans, Jim Ross and Lou Fontinato, turned in a hard hitting and effective display. The Quaker forwards steered Vancouver attackers into the defense and the shock troops took over from there with jolting checks.

Narrow Victory

NEW YORK (UP)—Joey Klein, victor by the narrowest possible margin over Freddie (Babe) Herman, will appear again at Brooklyn's Eastern Parkway Arena next month, possibly in a return bout against Rocky Casillo, matchmaker Teddy Brenner said today.

Klein of New York gained a split 10-round decision over Herman of Los Angeles at the arena last night on the strength of one point on the referee's score card.

Gavilan-Olson Bout Remains Indefinite

By GAYLE TALBOT

NEW YORK (AP)—Kid Gavilan's plans are a deep mystery to the International Boxing Club as The Hawk heads back to his native Cuba. The head promoters have a strong suspicion it will be some time before they can offer the country a bout between Gavilan and Bobo Olson for the latter's middleweight title.

The point is, as an IBC spokesman explains, that The Hawk discovered last Friday he still could make the 147-pound limit and be strong enough to pound the tears off the man who quite probably is the world's second best welterweight, Johnny Bratton. Gavilan wasn't sure about it before.

"He wasn't kidding about wanting a crack at Olson," said Murray Goodman, who is the IBC's most volatile talker. "He still does, and I feel sure we'll make the fight eventually."

"That Cuban will never be content until he has matched Sugar Ray Robinson's record of winning both titles."

Goodman said he had just had an interesting talk with Dr. Vincent Nardiello, the official physician for the New York Athletic Commission and long Robinson's personal physician.

Tip Logan Compiles Amazing Grid Mark

TORONTO (CP)—Gene Choo Choo Roberts, who went to Ottawa Rough Riders last season from Montreal Alouettes for the $200 waiver price, is the 1953 Big Four scoring champion.

Statistics compiled by the Canadian Press show the 20-year-old former New York Giants halfback with 88 points in 14 games, seven more than veteran Ray Poole of the Alouettes. First-year import from the Giants in the runner-up slot, Avatus Stone of Riders, who jumped Chicago Cardinals this year, placed third with 65 points.

But, despite the 1-2-3 placing of imports, the success story belongs to Canadian-born Tip Logan, fourth-place finisher with 61 points. The 25-year-old end who went to Hamilton Tiger-Cats three years ago from Queen's Golden Gaels of the Intercollegiate Union has shown remarkable improvement each succeeding year.

He won the Big Four scoring title in 1951, his first season with the Cats, with 51 points;

Chenier Leads Snooker Challenge

NEW WESTMINSTER (BUP)—Defending Canadian snooker champion George Chenier of Victoria, went out in front of Leo Levitt, Montreal, 10-5, after the second round of the challenge round for the Dominion title Monday night.

Chenier won three of the five frames. The 75-frame round resumes tonight.

WINNIPEG (CP)—It was back to work for Winnipeg Blue Bombers Monday night.

Coach George Trafton sent his club through a light drill to loosen up after a day off Sunday following Winnipeg's 30-24 triumph in the saw-off game against Edmonton Eskimos in the western final.

The rest of the week, Bombers will get down to serious practice for their Grey Cup semifinal here Saturday against Toronto Balmy Beach, Ontario Rugby Football Union champions.

Trafton doesn't think the Bombers will be any pushovers. "We're not taking them lightly. They've got some imports on that team which could make the Argos. But we're going to beat them."

Following Monday's workout at the club's practice field in St. Boniface, Trafton took the team into training quarters to review the film of the final game against the Eskis.

FOLLOW PLAY

Trafton ran the film through, but backtracked on certain plays where the boys looked good or bad. Out went the lights, and there was the opening kickoff. Then followed the steady murmur:

"Nice block, Tommy Lumsden," or "Well run back Jesse Gerry James."

"What was that defence?" "A 34," piped Dean Bandiera, all-star defensive guard.

The pictures continued. Everyone got in the act when the film showed the shot of Jack Jacobs weaving his way through a maze of would-be tacklers, then throwing a long pass into the end zone to Keith Pearce, put in at flying wing as added pass-receiving threat.

ORCHIDS

"Zoom," they chorused. "There she goes... nice catch Keith." Geoff Crain, last year with McGill, received bouquets for knocking down a Claude Arnold pass in Winnipeg's end zone.

"That was the play that won the game," whispered one voice. Then came the game-winning touchdown, with Dave Skrien intercepting Arnold's pass, running near mid-field then lateralling to Tom Casey, who went all the way.

"Way to go Dave... way to run Citation... hecha five bucks he makes it!" There were no takers.

Victoria Lions Club retained the President's Cup Sunday in their annual inter-club golf match with Esquimalt Lions Club at Gorge Vale Golf Club.

NEW YORK (BUP)—The United States will not send a team to the 1954 world amateur ice hockey championships in Sweden, but plans to compete in the 1955 tournament while Canada stays home.

"We discussed the situation in July at an international meeting in Zurich. There, there was the violent ill-will among European

RECORD CROWD SEEN FOR GRID PLAYOFF

HAMILTON, Ont. (BUP)—Record crowds lined up at box offices today to grab the few tickets left for Wednesday's Big Four playoff game between the Montreal Alouettes and Hamilton Tigercats.

The unprecedented demand for ducats promised a record mid-week crowd, and some firms laid down the law to employees against playing hooky.

Coach Carl Voyles meanwhile was using films of Montreal games to drill his Ti-Cats on the Alouettes' strength and weaknesses.

He didn't expect to make many changes in the line-up that beat Ottawa Saturday.

Hebenton Close To Point Lead

Victoria Cougars' sturdy right-winger, Andy Hebenton, is currently the hottest point-getter in the Western Hockey League.

Monday night Hebenton scored four goals and assisted on one other against Calgary Stampede to bring his point total for the last three games to 11 and moved into a third-place tie in the point race with Bob Love of New Westminster Royals.

Calgary's Frank Ashworth tops the parade with 24 points, a two-point bulge over Vancouver Canucks' Andy Bathgate, recently called up by New York Rangers.

ALMAS MOVES UP Lorne Worsley, Vancouver Canucks, is still setting the pace for goalies with a 1.89 average. Calgary's Bill Brennan follows at 2.55 while Ralph Almas, Victoria, has a 3.05 mark.

Saskatoon's Howie Milford leads the penalty parade with a total of 51 minutes. Lou Fontinato, Saskatoon, is second with 49 minutes and Lloyd Durham, New Westminster, is third at 42 minutes.

Leading scorers follow: Ashworth (Cal) 24, Worsley (Van) 10, Hebenton (Vic) 10, Love (NW) 9, Brock (Sea) 9, Senick (Sask) 8, Pender (Sea) 7, Fontinato (Sas) 6, Bradley (Sea) 5, Borahor (Vic) 5.

Furgol Tops Hogan in Tamarisk Open

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (UP)—Marty Furgol, a professional from Lemont, Ill., won the $3,500 Tamarisk Open golf tournament Monday with a 54-hole total of 206, three strokes better than champion Ben Hogan, who finished third.

Bud Holscher, a sailor from San Diego, placed second with a 207.

Hogan slipped from a second-round one-stroke lead because of putting trouble. He carded a par 72 with 36-36, against Furgol's 33-35-68.

The win was worth $250 to Furgol, Holscher got $150 and Hogan $100.

WINNIPEG (CP)—Dennis Ball, Winnipeg hockey scout, has been appointed chief scout in western Canada for New York Rangers of the National Hockey League.

hockey fans against the American and Canadian teams due to what the Europeans regard as unsportsmanlike and unnecessarily rough play. By North American standards it is clean and proper play, but the European style does not allow the hard body-checking and the high stick-work that North America admires. American officials also agreed with the Canadians that crowds probably would not be as large in Zurich as in some other North European cities and that there was danger of losing a large sum of money.

Sno-Birds Ski Club Set Annual Meeting

The Victoria Sno-Birds Ski Club, planning a big membership drive, will hold its first meeting of the winter season at Newstead Hall, November 22 at 8.

New officers will be elected at the meeting and plans will be made for week-end trips to the club's Mount Breton Lodge.

Club officials feel that the new facilities at Mt. Breton will attract many new members. Comfortable lodgings are available at the lodge and a 400-foot ski tow has been installed, satisfying at least the most necessary need of the club. A large slope has been cleared around the tow.

CLIPPERS TO LOSE STAR?

Duggan Gets Offers From Senior Clubs

By DENNY BOYD

The prolific scoring feats of Nanaimo Clippers' Arnie Duggan may yet be the undoing of the club for which he has scored better than three points per game this season.

Duggan has been tremendous on behalf of the Clippers, leading team in Vancouver Island Commercial Hockey League. The big team captain, who starred for Nanaimo lacrosse team during the summer, has scored 14 goals and 17 assists in his club's 10 games for 31 points and a stranglehold on the individual scoring lead.

However, others besides the hockey fans in Nanaimo and Victoria have been impressed with Duggan's scoring capacity. Reports from Nanaimo indicate that Duggan is contemplating offers from both Kamloops Elks of the Okanagan League and Spokane of the Western International Hockey League. And it is certain that Duggan continues his scoring pace on the Island, the offers will increase proportionately.

Nanaimo recently lost star goaltender Spanky Hodgson to Nelson Maple Leafs. The loss of Duggan would hit Clippers hard in spite of their depth in scoring power.

Since Nanaimo plays three games to two for the other three clubs in the league, it is natural that Nanaimo players hold a monopoly on the scoring race.

Veteran Red Carr of Nanaimo is second to Duggan with 12 goals and 10 assists for 22 points, while Clippers' Joe Zuback is third with 20 points and Ed Shamlock fourth with 18 points. Top Victoria player is Merchants' Toby Brown, last year's scoring leader, who has eight goals and eight assists for 16 points in seven games.

Merchant goalie George Hall tops the regular netminders with an average of 3.28 goals per game. Walt Davis, who replaced Hodgson in the Nanaimo nets, has a 3.00 average but has played only two games.

COSTLY WORDS

Clipper playing coach Shamlock has received only five penalties this year but three of them have been 10-minute misconducts, adding up to a total of 34 minutes and making him the leader in the penance department.

Nanaimo, as a club, leads in team penalties with 78 minutes, while Navy is second with 49 minutes and Victoria V's quality as the most angeli club with only 22 minutes in six games.

Tonight, Merchants will be in Nanaimo meeting the Clippers, while in Wednesday night's twin bill at Memorial Arena V's meet Merchants in the 7:30 opener and Navy meets Nanaimo in the feature game.

Oak Bay Grid Protest Denied

By DENNY BOYD

The furor that accompanied Navy's 6-5 victory over Oak Bay Whites Saturday in the first game of the Victoria Junior Canadian Football League semifinals officially came to an end Monday night.

League officials heard a protest tendered by the Oak Bay team with regards to one of the game officials, Johnny Bing, particular reference being given to a key call by that official.

However, after discussing the protest, the league ruled that there was not sufficient evidence of incompetent officiating to justify the claim.

The protest was thrown out and the Navy victory will stand, giving the sailors a berth in the Tommy Douglas Trophy finals against the winner of the Vampires-Royal Roads semifinals, billed for Saturday.

On the recommendation of the referees' association, Navy half-back Eric Padmore was given a one-game suspension, making him ineligible for the final. The action was taken as a result of a fracas Saturday between Padmore and Oak Bay's Bill Mayzes. The referee's report stated that on being tackled by Mayzes, Padmore slapped the Oak Bay player, who punched back.

The Oak Bay protest dealt only in part with the hotly disputed pass play that aroused so much fuss Saturday. The main part of the official protest claimed that Bing, game umpire, was prejudiced in Navy's favor and was therefore incapable of calling an unbiased game. The meeting found no evidence of prejudice.

THREE-TIME LOSERS

Tiger-Cats 'Due' In Big Four Final

HAMILTON (CP)—Hamilton Tiger-Cats will have the law of averages on their side when they tangle here tomorrow with Montreal Alouettes in the opening game of the Big Four final.

Saturday the Tiger-Cats qualified for the best-of-three game, Big Four playoff for the fourth straight year. In the three previous seasons they were beaten for the league title and—as the saying goes—they are overdue. Their conquerors all went on to win the Grey Cup.

Last year it was Toronto Argonauts who ousted the Tiger-Cats. In a sudden-death third game, after Hamilton tied the two-game, total-points series with a 27-11 victory in the second game.

In 1951 Ottawa eliminated the Tigers in a two-game, total-points final. The year before it was again the Argos who caused their downfall.

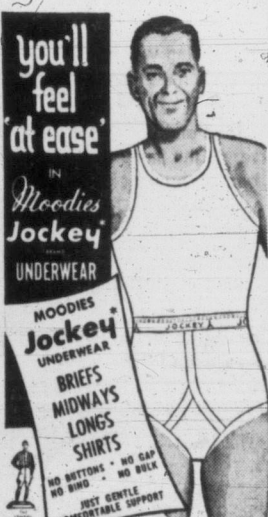

This season, at least, the Tigers will have new opposition when they meet Montreal. With the Als sporting a long string of injuries, Hamilton hopes are high.

Irish Hold Grid Lead

NEW YORK (AP)—Notre Dame and Maryland, only major teams to escape the season's plague of "upsetitis," stand almost unchallenged in the Nos. 1 and 2 spots of American college football.

Notre Dame holds its position at the head of the Associated Press rankings for the eighth straight week, but is under new pressure from its constant pursuer, Maryland.

The new standing: 1, Notre Dame; 2, Maryland; 3, Michigan State; 4, Oklahoma; 5, UCLA; 6, Texas; 7, Illinois; 8, Wisconsin; 9, Southern California; 10, Rice.

Hornsby Quits Pro Baseball For TV Show

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rogers Hornsby announced Monday he is quitting professional baseball to make television films aimed to teach the fundamentals of baseball to children.

Hornsby, now 57, was one of the great players of baseball in his playing days and has managed a long string of major and minor league clubs, the latest of which was Cincinnati Reds, who gave him the axe two weeks before the end of the 1953 season.

Imports Dominate Big Four All-Stars

By WILF GRISON

TORONTO (CP)—Ottawa Rough Riders and Montreal Alouettes, who have shown they can break a game wide open with their quick-striking scoring punch, today landed five players each on the Big Four football all-star offensive team.

The shattering offensive power of these clubs and the sharp defensive play of Hamilton Tiger-Cats were recognized in the selections made by football writers, sportscasters and coaches for separate all-star offensive and defensive teams.

CATS BEST DEFENDERS

The selectors, who picked the teams for The Canadian Press, turned to Tiger-Cats to provide the main strength for the defensive squad.

Seven Hamilton players won berths on this squad, Montreal and Toronto Argonauts two each and Ottawa the remaining position.

OFFENSIVE TEAM

Flying wing: Bob Simpson, Ottawa.

Halves: Gene Roberts and Avatus Stone, Ottawa; Joe Scudero, Toronto.

Quarter: Sam Elcheverry, Montreal.

Centre: Tom Hugo, Montreal.

Guards: Ed Bradley, Montreal; Kay Vaughan, Ottawa.

Tackles: Tex Coulter, Montreal; Vince Mazza, Hamilton.

Ends: Bernie Flowers, Ottawa; John O'Quinn, Montreal.

DEFENSIVE TEAM

Flying wing: Ted Toogood, Toronto.

Halves (tertiary): Lou Kusserow and Dick Brown, Hamilton; Howie Turner, Ottawa.

Halves (secondary): Red Ettinger, Toronto; Ralph Toohy, Hamilton.

Guards: Vince Scott and Eddie Bevan, Hamilton.

Tackles: Vince Mazza, Hamilton; Tex Coulter, Montreal.

Ends: Pete Neuman, Hamilton; Doug McNichol, Montreal.

The selectors, whose votes were weighted to give equal balloting strength to each city in the league, picked imports for 11 positions in the offensive line-up. The only Canadian to make the squad was flying wing Bob Simpson, the third straight year he has been named an all-star.

There was little chance for Canadians to crash the offensive line-up with all the teams concentrating their attacking forces in imports. But they shone on defense and six of the positions on the defensive team went to native players.

They were flying wing Ted

No Worries For Crowe

OTTAWA (CP)—Clew Crowe can coach Ottawa Rough Riders again next season if he wants to, an official of the Big Four football club said today.

J. P. McCaffrey, Riders' president, said Crowe left for his farm at Eden, N.Y., after Saturday's final game of the Big week.

Four, season which Ottawa lost 188 to Hamilton Tiger-Cats. The loss ended Riders' playoff hopes.

"Unless he's got a better offer, the coaching job for next fall is his again," McCaffrey said. "This isn't a spur-of-the-moment decision. The Ottawa executive agreed on this last week."

San Francisco Talks Clouded By Russians

(This is another installment of Volume VI of the war memoirs of Winston Churchill, Britain's Prime Minister. Other installments will be carried daily.)

By WINSTON S. CHURCHILL

President Truman's first political act which concerned us was to take up the Polish question from the point where it stood when Roosevelt died, only 48 hours earlier. He proposed a joint declaration by us both to Stalin. The document in which this was set forth must of course have been far advanced in preparation by the State Department at the moment when the new President succeeded. Nevertheless it is remarkable that he felt able so promptly to commit himself to it amid the formalities of assuming office and the funeral of his predecessor.

He admitted that Stalin's attitude was not very hopeful but he should "have another go" and he accordingly proposed telling Stalin that our Ambassadors in Moscow had agreed without question to the three leaders of the Warsaw Government being invited to Moscow for consultation and assuring him we had never denied they would play a prominent part in forming the new Provisional Government of National Unity. Our Ambassadors were not demanding the right to invite an unlimited number of Poles from abroad and from within Poland. The real issue was whether the Warsaw Government could veto individual candidates for consultation, and in our opinion the Yalta Agreement did not entitle them to do so.

Eden, Stettinius Made No Progress

The joint message was sent on the 15th (of April, 1945).

On April 23, Mr. Stettinius and Eden had an hour and a quarter's discussions (in Washington) with Molotov over Poland. They made no progress whatever.

"I took a very bad view," wrote Eden, "of tonight's meeting with M. Molotov. I could see no sign of any attention having been given to your joint message with the President. Consequently there seems to be no prospect of progress tomorrow. Moreover, the Soviet Government were quite unrepentant about their treaty with the Warsaw Poles. . . . My impression is that the Soviet Government is still cavalier in its attitude and will not accept the seriousness of the situation, unless it is brought up sharply against realities. There is only one way in which we can do this, and that is by postponing the opening of the Conference for some days while we continue to hammer at the Polish issue in Washington. Unless the Russians are prepared to work with us and the Americans come on the basis of the Yalta decisions there is no three-Power unity on which San Francisco can be based."

"Seeking as I do," I replied on the 24th, "a lasting friendship with the Russian people, I am sure this can only be founded upon their recognition of Anglo-American strength. My appreciation is that the new President is not to be bullied by the Soviets."

To Stalin I wrote on the same day:

Prime Minister to Marshal Stalin.

24 April 45.

"I have seen the message about Poland which the President handed to M. Molotov for transmission to you, and I have consulted the War Cabinet on account of its special importance. It is my duty now to inform you that we are all agreed in associating ourselves with the President in the aforesaid message. I earnestly hope that means will be found to compose these serious difficulties, which if they continue will darken the hour of victory."

Stalin replied in substance that we regarded the Provisional Polish Government, not as the nucleus of a future Polish Government of National Unity, but simply as one of several groups equivalent to any other group of Poles. This was not what we had decided at Yalta. "There," he claimed, "all three of us, including President Roosevelt, proceeded on the assumption that the Provisional Polish Government, functioning now, as it does, in Poland and enjoying the confidence and support of the majority of the Polish people, should be the nucleus that is to say, the principal part of a new reorganised Government of National Unity."

Stalin's Statements Provide No Answer

"You evidently are not in agreement with such an understanding of the question. In declining to accept the Yugoslav precedent as a model for Poland you confirm that the Provisional Polish Government cannot be considered as a basis and nucleus of a future Government of National Unity."

Stalin contended that Poland, unlike Great Britain and the United States, had a common frontier with the Soviet Union. Her security was as important to Russia as that of Belgium and Greece to Great Britain.

This was no answer. Had gone to Yalta with the hope that both the London and Lublin Polish Governments would be swept away and that a new Government would be formed from among Poles of goodwill, among whom the members of Bierut's Government would be prominent. But Stalin had not liked this plan, and we and the Americans had agreed that there was to be no sweeping away of the Bierut Government, but that instead it should become a "new" Government, "recognised on a broader democratic basis, with the inclusion of democratic leaders from Poland itself and from Poles abroad."

"On April 29 I put my whole case to Stalin.

Prime Minister to Marshal Stalin.

29 April 45.

"We are all shocked that you should think that we would favor a Polish Government hostile to the Soviet Union. This is the opposite of our policy. But it was on account of Poland that the British went to war with Germany in 1939. We saw in the Nazi treatment of Poland a symbol of Hitler's vile and wicked lust of conquest and subjugation, and his invasion of Poland was the spark that fired the mine."

The British people do not, as is sometimes thought, go to war for calculation, but for sentiment. They had a feeling which grew up in years that with all Hitler's encroachments and doctrine he was a danger to our country and to the liberties which we prize in Europe, and when after Munich he broke his word so shamefully about Czechoslovakia even the extremely peace-loving Chamberlain gave our guarantee against Hitler to Poland."

"When that guarantee was invoked by the German invasion of Poland the whole nation went to war with Hitler, unprepared as we were. There was flame in the hearts of men like that which swept your people in their noble defence of their country from a treacherous, brutal, and, as at one time it almost seemed, overwhelming German attack. This British flame burned still among all classes and parties in this Island and in its self-governing Dominions, and they can never feel this war will have ended rightly unless Poland has a fair deal in the full sense of sovereignty, independence, and freedom, on the basis of friendship with Russia. It was on this that I thought we had agreed at Yalta.

"Side by side with this keen sentiment for the rights of Poland, which I believe is shared in at least as strong a degree throughout the United States, there has grown up throughout the English-speaking world a very warm and deep desire to be friends on equal and honorable terms with the mighty Russian Soviet Republic and to work with you, making allowances for our different systems of thought and government, in long and bright years for all the world which we three Powers alone can make together. I, who in my years of great responsibility have worked faithfully for this unity, will certainly continue to do so by every means in my power, and in particular I can assure you that we in Great Britain would not work for or tolerate a Polish Government unfriendly to Russia. Neither could we recognise a Polish Government that did not truly correspond to the description in our joint declaration at Yalta, with proper regard for the rights of the individual as we understand matters in the Western world."

Belgium Wanted In General System

"As to Belgium, we have no conditions to demand, though we hope they will, under whatever form of government they adopt by popular decision, give into a general system of resistance to prevent Germany striking westward. Belgium, like Poland, is a theatre of war and corridor of communication, and everyone must recognise the force of these considerations, without which great armies cannot operate."

"Also difficulties arise at the present moment because all sorts of stories are brought out of Poland which are eagerly listened to by many Members of Parliament, and which at any time may be violently raised in Parliament or the Press in spite of my depreciating such action, and on which M. Molotov will vouchsafe us no information at all in spite of repeated requests. For instance, there is the talk of the 15 Poles who were said to have met the Russian authorities for discussion over four weeks ago, and of M. Witos, about whom there has been a similar but more recent report; and there are many other statements of deportations, etc. How can I contradict such complaints when you give me no information what ever and when neither I nor the Americans are allowed to send anyone into Poland to find out for themselves the true state of affairs? There is no part of our occupied or liberated territory into which you are not free to send delegations, and people do not see why you should have any reasons against similar visits by British delegations to foreign countries liberated by you.

"There is not much comfort in looking into a future where you and the countries you dominate, plus the Communist Parties in many other States, are all drawn up on one side, and those who rally to the English-speaking nations and their associates or Dominions are on the other. It is quite obvious that their quarrel would tear the world to pieces and that all of us leading men on either side who had anything to do with that would be shamed before history. Even embarking on a long period of suspicions, of abuse and counter-abuse, and of opposing policies would be a disaster hampering the great developments of world prosperity for the masses which are attainable only by our trinity. I hope there is no word or phrase in this outpouring of my heart to you which unwittingly gives offence. If so, let me know. But do not, I beg you, my friend Stalin, underrate the divergences which are opening about matters which you may think are small to us but which are symbolic of the way the English-speaking democracies look at life."

The incident of the 15 Poles mentioned in my telegram now requires to be recorded. At the beginning of March 1945 the Polish Underground were invited by the Russian Political Police to send a delegation to Moscow to discuss the formation of a united Polish Government along the lines of the

DODGE REGENT

Pick any one of these DODGE beauties

DODGE MAYFAIR

...for the newest in colourful styling...and luxurious driving ease

add Hy-Drive

With Dodge Hy-Drive you just shift into high — and go! You can drive all day without shifting . . . maneuver through traffic . . . stop for red lights . . . glide off again with a smooth, silent surge of power. You soon forget about gearshift and clutch. There's nothing new to learn — if you wish to back up, or need extra power when driving through snow or mud — just shift in the familiar way.

add Full-Power Steering

For the most effortless parking and steering you will find in any car — try Dodge Full Power Steering. From the moment you start your engine, hydraulic power takes over 4/5ths of the steering effort. You can't imagine how easy it is to park — to drive through traffic — to turn corners — to control your car on bumpy, rutted roads. You can turn the wheel with one finger — even when your Dodge is standing still.

No matter which 1954 Dodge you select, you'll be thrilled and surprised at how much more your dollars have bought.

In the Crusader series you'll enjoy the longer, more beautiful styling which distinguishes all 1954 Dodge cars, with smart new interiors and seating comfort, safety and fine vision you expect of a Dodge — all at a price that will please you.

The beautiful Regent series brings you styling, fine appointments and comfort hitherto only available in more costly cars — with, of course, all the many Dodge engineering features which mean so much in driving ease and performance.

In the brilliant new Mayfair series you'll see such style, and experience such luxury, you'll wonder how any car in the lower-priced field could offer so much. Their interior two-tone beauty of rich, woven fabrics and soft, ivory, leather-grained vinyl, with every appointment designed for your comfort and driving ease, are seldom surpassed by any car at any price.

There's performance to match this new Dodge style and beauty, no matter which series you select. There's a more powerful engine . . . the famous Dodge "three-way-smoother" ride . . . your choice of Hy-Drive, the simplest form of no-shift driving . . . and Dodge Full-Power Steering for the ultimate in luxurious driving ease.

When one of these beauties is your Dodge you'll drive it with pride. See and drive one to-day at your Dodge-DeSoto dealer's.

Eden, Stettinius and Molotov at San Francisco. Of a similar meeting Eden reported: "I took a very bad view of tonight's meeting..."

'TRIUMPH AND TRAGEDY'

Yalta agreement. This was followed by a written guarantee of personal safety, and it was understood that the party would later be allowed, if the negotiations were successful, to travel to London for talks with the Polish Government in exile. On March 27 General Leopold Okulicki, the successor of General Bor Komorowski in command of the Underground army, and two other leaders, had a meeting in the suburbs of Warsaw with a Soviet representative. They were joined the following day by 11 leaders representing the major political parties in Poland. No one returned from the rendezvous. On April 6 the Polish Government in exile issued a statement in London giving the outline of this sinister episode. The most valuable representatives of the Polish Underground had disappeared, without a trace in spite of the formal Russian offer of safe-conduct. Questions were asked in Parliament, and stories have since spread of the shooting of local Polish leaders in the areas now occupied by the Soviet armies, and particularly of one episode at Siedlce, in Eastern Poland. It was not until May 4 that Molotov admitted at San Francisco that these men were being held in Russia, and an official Russian news agency stated next day that they were awaiting trial on charges of "diversionary tactics in the rear of the Red Army."

On May 18 Stalin publicly denied that the arrested Polish leaders had ever been invited to Moscow, and asserted that they were mere "diversionists"

Even Greater Peril Swiftly Unfolding

While the Conference at San Francisco was agreeably planning the foundations of a future free, civilised, and united world, and while the rejoicings in our victory over Hitler and the Nazi tyranny transported the peoples of the Grand Alliance, my mind was oppressed with the new and even greater peril which was swiftly unfolding itself to my gaze. There was also at a lower level the worry about a General Election, which, whatever its result, must divide the nation and weaken its expression in this period when all that we had gained in a righteous war might be cast away. It seemed above all vital that Stalin, Truman, and I should meet together at the earliest moment, and that nothing should delay us. On May 4 I drew the European scene as I saw it for Mr. Eden, who was at the San Francisco Conference, in daily touch with Stettinius and Molotov, and soon to revisit the President at Washington.

"I consider that the Polish deadlock can now probably only be resolved at a conference between the three heads of Governments in some unshattered town in Germany, if such can be found. This should take place at latest at the beginning of July. I propose to telegraph a suggestion to President Truman about his visit here and the further indispensable meeting of the three major Powers."

"2. The Polish problem may be easier to settle when set in relation to the now numerous outstanding questions of the utmost gravity which require urgent settlement with the Russians. I fear terrible things have happened during the Russian advance, through Germany to the Elbe. The proposed withdrawal of the United States Army to the occupational lines which were arranged with the Russians and Americans in Quebec, and which were marked in yellow on the maps we studied there, would mean the tide of Russian domination sweeping forward 120 miles on a front of 300 or 400 miles. This would be an event which, if it occurred, would be one of the most melancholy in history. After it was over and the territory occupied by the Russians Poland would be completely engulfed."

"3. This constitutes an event in the history of Europe to which there has been no parallel, and which has not been faced by the Allies in their long and hazardous struggle. The Russian demands on Germany for reparations alone will be such as to enable her to prolong the occupation almost indefinitely, at any rate for many years, during which time Poland will sink with many other States into the vast zone of Russian-controlled Europe, not necessarily economically Sovietised, but police-governed."

"4. It is just about time that these formidable issues were examined between the principal Powers as a whole. We have several powerful bargaining counters on our side, the use of which might make for a peaceful agreement. First, the Allies ought not to retreat from their present positions to the occupational line until we are satisfied about Poland, and also about the temporary character of the Russian occupation of Germany, and the conditions to be established in the Russian-ised or Russian-controlled countries in the Danube valley, particularly Austria and Czechoslovakia, and the Balkans. Secondly, we may be able to please them about the exits from the Black Sea and the Baltic as part of a general settlement. All these matters can only be settled before the United States armies in Europe are weakened. If they are not settled before the United States armies withdraw from Europe and the Western World folds up its war-machines there are no prospects of a satisfactory solution and very little of preventing a third World War. It is to this early and speedy showing down and settlement with Russia that we must now turn our hopes. Meanwhile I am against weakening our claim against Russia on behalf of Poland in any way. I think it should stand where it was put in the telegrams from the President and me."

"Nothing," I added the next day, "can save us from the great catastrophe but a meeting and a show-down as early as possible at some point in Germany which is under American and British control and affords reasonable accommodation."

Tomorrow: The final advance.

NURSING SERVICE FOR SAANICH?

The Saanich welfare committee will meet the Victorian Order of Nurses on Dec. 10 to discuss the establishment of a bedside nursing service in the municipality.

The meeting was authorized by Saanich Council Monday after Mrs. A. S. Moffat, 3730 Savannah Avenue, representing the Lake Hill Women's Institute, told councillors that many elderly people living in the municipality were in need of a nursing service.

Mrs. Moffat said it would not cost the municipality more than $5,000 a year.

International Labor Body Reject Russians

GENEVA, Switzerland (Reuters)—The International Labor Organization Monday refused Russia's application for membership because the ILO constitution makes no provision for membership on a basis of incomplete acceptance of obligations.

Russia applied recently for re-admission to the UN's world labor organization. But the latter declared Russia would not consider itself bound by the article in the ILO's constitution providing for appeals to the International Court or other tribunals.

Hon. Einar M. Gunderson
MINISTER OF FINANCE

Your Social Credit Government Kept Its Promises

1. REDUCTION OF DEBT

The Budget Speech of Liberal Finance Minister dated March 4th, 1952 shows the net debt under the Liberal regime would have now reached $207 million. Under the Social Credit Government the net debt is now only $157 million or $50 million less than it would have been if the Liberals had been elected in 1952.

2. SECURE MORE REVENUE FROM NATURAL RESOURCES

These taxes placed on the PROFITS of our resources are deductible as an expense from Federal Income Tax and make it possible for your Social Credit Government to reduce taxes on all of the people in British Columbia.

3. REDUCTION OF TAXES IN THE SIXTEEN MONTHS SINCE SOCIAL CREDIT HAS BEEN IN OFFICE

Your Social Credit Government reduced sales tax on meals.
Your Social Credit Government reduced car license fees.
Your Social Credit Government reduced Hospital Insurance premiums.
These REDUCTIONS SAVE the PEOPLE of the Province over $3,000,000 per year.
Yes, your Social Credit Government is a people's Government, do not be misled by the false propaganda of the powerful self-interested lobbies of political machines.
Your Social Credit Government is a free enterprise Government, securing the benefits of Free Enterprise for all of our people.

Hence the "A" rating. It's even more surprising to see how much handier Gary Cooper is with a gun in "High Noon" than he was back in the "Along Came Jones" days. That boy sure has improved!

This truly is a delightful chore. Imagine a western where the hero is a buttered-fingered cowboy trap who is always beaten to the draw, can't shoot straight and is always getting the tar licked out of him in the brawling.

Such a Coop in this one. He's a whimsical but obscure Texan who yearns to have people think he is important. This results in a heap of trouble for him when the townspeople think he's the desperate outlaw Dan Duryea. He tries to live up to the role thrust upon him and even steals the outlaw's best gal, Loretta Young.

Aiding and abetting the amusing yarn is William Demarest. If you like Cooper you'll like this one if you missed it before.

The other half of the bill, the whodunit "The Woman in the Window," stars Edward G. Robinson, Joan Bennett and Raymond Massey.

As this one goes it is fairly exciting. Robinson is a respected middle-aged family man and a professor of psychology to boot. In an unguarded moment he becomes embroiled with beautiful artist's model Bennett. While with her (albeit innocently) he murders a man and the plot unfolds while he tries to bury the body and thereby commit the perfect crime.

Big Esquimalt Works Program On Schedule, Wurtele Reveals

Esquimalt's $300,000 public works program of 1953 is two-thirds completed, and the work, both non-contract and by tender, is exactly on schedule.

Reeve A. C. Wurtele made these points clear today when he disclosed the council already is planning its public works program for 1954.

One of the big jobs contemplated... it will depend upon the federal government's participation just how big an undertaking it will be... is the widening and re-surfacing of Admirals Road, key approach route to HMCS Naden and HM Drydock.

"We are in touch with Ottawa," Reeve Wurtele said, "and momentarily anticipating an indication of what we can expect in the way of co-operation from the department of national defense. We are in touch with Dr. F. T. Fairley, MP, too, and have been assured of his good offices."

The reeve hopes to be able to report to a meeting of the ratepayers December 10, two days before the election in the municipality, the result of negotiations with the federal government.

Meanwhile, the current road program is being pushed before cold weather sets in.

"We are utilizing municipal equipment wherever possible," the reeve said, "both for the sake of economy and to speed the general program. We did the re-grading, paving and widening on Esquimalt Road ourselves."

"We got an independent estimate on that work and we know that by doing it ourselves we have saved more than $20,000," Reeve Wurtele said.

Lower Freight Rates Go Into Effect

WINNIPEG, Man. (BUP)—Western Canadian shippers and consumers Monday started saving the first dollars of an estimated $3,000,000 a year as the railways carried freight at a 5 per cent lower rate.

The freight rate reduction was ordered on Oct. 5, to become effective Nov. 15, and was the first one in standard mileage rates for the west since 1922. It affected about one-fifth of all freight traffic across the Prairies.

School Board Won't Deprive Students of Photo Bargains

Greater Victoria School Board decided Monday night students were entitled to the best deal possible when it came to the matter of obtaining a photograph to take annual class pictures.

The board came to that decision after considering a proposal from the Victoria Zone of B.C. Professional Photographers which complained a Vancouver firm was being allowed to do most of the school work here. The Vancouver firm is Superior School Photo Service Ltd., which was established with the idea of taking school pictures on a province-wide basis. Victoria photographers, in their letter of complaint, acknowledged they could not meet the low price of the mainland firm, but felt local photographs should be given preference.

The Vancouver firm, besides taking a group picture at a reduced rate, provides each student with a free individual photograph on his student's identification card. In addition, the firm turns back a certain percentage of its take to the students' council.

Recently, the board got away from the old idea of authorizing one local photographer to take class pictures at all schools in the area. Now, each principal is authorized to choose.

The board felt the principals should be free to make the best deal possible.

Tenants Fight Fire In Vancouver Block

NEW WESTMINSTER (BUP)—Firemen credited three tenants Monday with averting a possible serious fire in an apartment block early Sunday.

Firemen said the three fought a blaze which broke out in a ventilator shaft of the Boyd block at 87 10th Street with a garden hose and had the blaze nearly under control by the time firemen arrived. Damage in the blaze in the three-story wooden structure has not been estimated.

False Teeth Often Have a Certain Odor!

Soak your plates in Polident daily to avoid "Denture Breath"

Polident is the specially designed cleanser that keeps false teeth—and breath—clean and fresh always. Follow these simple rules:
1. Never use a brush on them! Your dental plates are much softer than natural teeth. Brushing wears down fitting ridges so they get loose.
2. Never use soap or toothpaste! They can leave film which collects bacteria and food particles, a major cause of offensive "Denture Breath."
3. Use a soaking-type cleanser made for false teeth only... Polident! Polident is the denture cleanser recommended by more dentists than any other. No brushing, no handling of soapy plates that can slip and break. Polident gets where a brush can't reach. Best of all, Polident always leaves false teeth odor free. Get the world's largest selling denture cleanser, Polident, at your drug counter.

UDL Directors Must Answer, Court Rules

Defendants in $2.5 Million Bell Suit

VANCOUVER (CP)—Directors and the secretary of the United Distillers of Canada, Ltd., must answer some of the pre-trial questions put to them in a $2,500,000 suit of the late Nathan Bell's family of Calgary.

Mr. Justice J.V. Cline Monday ordered that the questions be answered, but at the same time he ruled the defendants are entitled to claim protection by refusing to answer other questions which they contend might incriminate them.

The directors are Albert L. McLennan, Isadore Z. Klein and George W. Norgan, all of Vancouver. The secretary is Norman H. Peters.

Claimants are Mrs. Nathan Bell and Angela and Jack Bell, her son and daughter.

The Bells seek an accounting and a share of huge profits alleged to have been made in the United States. They seek $2,500,000 or, alternatively, ask for the return of 60,760 shares of UDL stock they sold to the directors in 1945 at $8.33 a share, and also seek $300,000 for dividends on the shares.

They claimed the shares were actually worth $50 each.

They based their claim on evidence given before a U.S. tax committee in Washington in March, 1952, where it was alleged McLennan, Norgan and Klein made a $20,000,000 profit on an original $4,000 liquor business investment.

In upholding the objections of defense to answering many of the questions, Mr. Justice Cline said the suit involved charges of fraud.

He also noted that it was alleged large sums were secretly taken from the coffers of the company and its subsidiaries to bribe officials and employees of the U.S. government.

SYMPHONY'S THIRD CONCERT MAKES HISTORY

Robin Wood, as Guest Pianist, Triumphant

By AUDREY ST. D. JOHNSON

The third concert this season of the Victoria Symphony Orchestra made history in this city.

Not only did the orchestra, in at least one instance, play better than it has ever played in the memory of the writer, it also chalked up a couple of firsts. It was the first time the symphony has presented as guest soloist a Victoria-born pianist who is rapidly achieving an international reputation—and it was the first time a hockey bulletin has been issued from the podium by a grave-faced conductor.

Hans Gruber interrupted the ovation at the conclusion of the concert to announce his favorite hockey team's two-goal lead over Calgary.

Eager expectancy of the capacity audience flowing into the Royal Theatre could be felt like electricity in the air. And there was no let-down. As the evening progressed, expectancy turned to satisfaction, pride, enthusiasm and elation.

There are few musical people in Victoria who do not know by now that Robin Wood is in the foremost rank of young Canadian musicians and probably has enough of the right ingredients to make an international figure in a few years' time.

RARE GIFTS

Last night's performance of the Chopin Concerto No. 1 in E Minor heightened the impression of an extremely rare combination of gifts. Tall, slight, unassuming, Mr. Wood has nevertheless an air of quiet authority and he plays with confidence and ease entirely devoid of ostentation or cultivated mannerism.

To be candid, I would rather have heard him in one of the weightier concertos, but, on the other hand, he is undoubtedly an inspired Chopin player, in himself a phenomenon.

This was an extremely sensitive performance and one in which soloist and conductor seemed to be in full accord. Once again, beautiful tone, fine phrase building and a flexibility that produced pearly running passages of great clarity, were a notable part of Mr. Wood's equipment.

TRIUMPHANT

The difficult work, which has problems peculiar to itself, connected with the balance between solo and orchestral parts, can be considered a triumph from all points of view. There was close co-operation between the three elements—a unity of desire, attempt and achievement—for which Mr. Wood's profound musical intelligence and brilliance was undoubtedly the key stone, but which was splendidly supplemented by Hans Gruber and the orchestra.

The audience refused to let the pianist go until he had added three encores: two Chopin waltzes and the fascinating "Pastorale" by Poulenc.

Wagner and Haydn formed the balance of the program, and a most satisfactory balance it was. If the orchestra has ever played better than it did in the Haydn Symphony in G minor (Military), I cannot recall the occasion. Communication between Gruber and his musicians was firm and close, the performance had great vitality and character, "was always secure and shapely with a classic grace."

While the string tone still lacks a truly silken quality, confidence and unanimity have brought this section to a new brilliance; horns, woodwinds and tympani made the most of their opportunity in the Haydn and, woodwinds were again much to the fore in the lovely, atmospheric "Siegfried Idyll" of Wagner. The program closed on a note of color and brilliance with a performance of Wagner's overture to "Die Meistersinger."

BENNETT the JUGGLER!

PREMIER BENNETT HAS clearly misrepresented his new liquor tax. When he told his followers last week that the 10 per cent tax was only an increase of 7 per cent over that already applied on the purchase of a bottle, he disclosed a type of arithmetic which must cause wide-spread alarm.

The club manager buying a bottle for resale as drinks by the glass avoids the 3 per cent sales tax charged on private purchases from the liquor vendor, but must add the 10 per cent tax to the sale per drink.

A $4.50 bottle of rye containing 25 ounces and selling at 35 cents per ounce drink, consequently returns $8.75 and the 10 per cent tax must be levied on that total—a tax of 87½ cents.

The tippler's tax, 87½ cents on a $4.50 bottle, amounts to 19 per cent of the bottle's cost at the vendors. It further represents an increase of 625 per cent over the 14 cents paid for a bottle under the old 3 per cent tax.

Mr. Bennett, who makes a practice of denouncing opponents for alleged misrepresentation, has been extremely careless with his figures on the liquor tax—careless, if a charitable construction is to be placed on his remarks.

The public expects exaggeration on the hustings. But it will countenance no such clear-cut misinterpretation of tax increases. If the Premier has provided so improper a picture on the liquor tax, what credence can be placed in his explanations on the finances of the province in general?

SHOPPING GUIDE

Now! Hand-Embroidered Baby Wear in Eiderdown!

By PENNY SAVER

Every so often I just gotta find something exciting... something that people haven't seen before!

I found it today, by a store that carries it exclusively in Victoria. Yes, there's just one shop that sells this particular line of baby wear, and they're pretty proud of the fact. So they should be, for the things you buy are for the most part, hand-made and washable.

Take, for example, the eiderdown crib and buggy blankets, coats and bonnets. According to the sales girl, they wash up better than they clean... and you know what a saving that would be!

I'm not going to rant about the softness of eiderdown, for it goes without saying. What I do want to tell you about is the artistic hand embroidery on wool and silk on each piece you buy. Exquisite is hardly the word!

Then, on the blankets there is luxurious satin binding of excellent quality that will wash as beautifully as its eiderdown counterpart, leaving the blanket as new! Prices run $4, $4.50 and $5.95. Colors are pink, blue, yellow and white.

In the same colors and with the same outstanding hand-embroidery are the little coats and bonnets. Expertly lined and every detail finished to a "T", they are sturdy and ready for the kind of use little tots are bound to give them. Big hems, too, so they should last several seasons. Need I say that they are warm? Coats, $1.50 and $5. Bonnets, $1.95.

In the same line are fine Vyella baby shawls... big and cosy. They have wide wool fringes and some more of that embroidery I was telling you about... $12.95.

Then there are flannellette crib sheets, also with that embroidery. In two sizes, they cost $1.75 or $2.25.

WHY GROW OLD?

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Match Perfume to Occasion And Your Own Preference

The idea that a woman should use just one perfume seems to be dying out. Years ago we always knew, which feminine member of the family had been in the room before us, because of the lingering scent. Now we are more likely to be able to tell the time of day, by it.

Today women have a perfume wardrobe. They change perfumes just as they change make-up. Some are best in the daytime and some at night. As a general rule light, crisp fragrances are best for daytime. They can be floral or spicy. Heavier, more exotic and subtle scents, are for evening at home, or dress-up occasions.

However, choose only those which you like, which make you feel more attractive and happier. You should go to a perfume counter and smell several of them. A warning: if you try too many at one time you will become confused. Try only two or three at the most and if you are not certain come back another day and try some more.

Remember also that the chemistry of your skin affects the way your perfume smells. Therefore, always put a little on your hand when selecting one. Do not sniff out of the bottle.

As a general rule apply perfume at pulse points, at the wrist, on the inside of the elbow or at the temples. Use enough of it to do some good but do not bowl people over. Perfume at the hairline is pleasant because you yourself can enjoy it better.

One little trick is good for the same reason, especially when you are going dancing. Dampen little cotton pads and place them in your brassiere. The heat from your body will keep the fragrance alive. Most perfumes last for only about four hours. Therefore a little vial for your pocketbook is a good idea. There are many attractive ones on the market. Teen-agers should stick to the

Plans Hospital Bazaar

Mrs. Andrew Johnsen, president, and members of the Women's Auxiliary to St. Joseph's Hospital have completed plans for the annual Christmas bazaar to be held in the auditorium at the hospital on Thursday, commencing at 10 a.m. There will be stalls of aprons, fancy work, home cooking, candy, baby wear and afternoon tea will be served. Presiding at the tea table will be Mrs. A. Brunet, Mrs. Claude Harrison, Mrs. J. F. Mayot and Mrs. F. M. Bryant.

Women of Moose Active in Work for Youth and Aged Providing milk at special ceremonies, membership pins were presented to graduate regents, M. Carter, M. Pearce, E. Jane, Mesdames M. Morry, R. Panting, S. Weherell, E. Burke, J. Hill, I. Guelpa, in absentia, L. Thompson, and M. Wilcott.

Miss Guelpa gave the address of appreciation and Mrs. L. Smith sang "Memories". Esports and Friendship members acted as conductors.

A parcel post was conducted by Mrs. B. Stevens and a supper served at 6:30 p.m. in shape of a B with booklets of quotations as placecards and the birthday card representing an open book carried out in the library theme.

Mrs. W. Bentham reported on success of annual bazaar and Klondike Night; plans were made for a turkey and ham dinner on December 1 at 1405 Douglas Street; annual child's Christmas tree on December 18, with names to be sent in by end of November; Christmas social for members and friends to be held jointly with Lodge 1390 on December 11.

It was announced that November had been named as a period of mourning to the memory of Malcolm Giles, director general of Loyal Order of Moose who was very active in the order's work of caring for the children and the aged.

Child Should Feel At Home at Home

By ELIZABETH B. HURLOCK, PhD

When a child is hard to manage, it often means the home is at fault. That is why the mother who wrote the following letter about her child must look into the type of home she is making for her child. She says:

(Q)—"My daughter was six years old last May and is in school. At school, or in strange places, she is very quiet and timid. But, at home or with my family, she has always been hard to manage. I lived with my family when I was divorced. Now I have remarried and my daughter lives with us. She is very noisy, disobedient, and resentful. She is afraid of being spanked and I should think this would make her behave at home. She is just as bad when I take her to my sister's or mother's homes as she is when she is at our home. She nearly drives you nuts and I don't know how to make her behave. What would you advise?"

(A)—I would advise you to try to get some stability and love in your child's life first and foremost. She has had a difficult time, going from one home to another. While she may like your new husband, it is a difficult adjustment for her to live with him after being with her grandparents and other relatives.

Until she feels secure and loved at home, she is likely to be a real problem for you to handle. Furthermore, it is not fair to your new husband to have such a troublesome child around. A situation such as yours can bring trouble into even the happiest marriage.

For the time, give up the spanking and other forms of punishment. Talk to your daughter about what she should or should not do. Give her tasks to keep her busy and out of mischief. Be sure to praise her for her achievements and see that she feels a part of her new home.

Her behavior is her bid for attention. She is afraid to bid for attention at school, so she redoubles her efforts at home. When she feels she is a vital part of her new home, this bid for attention will end.

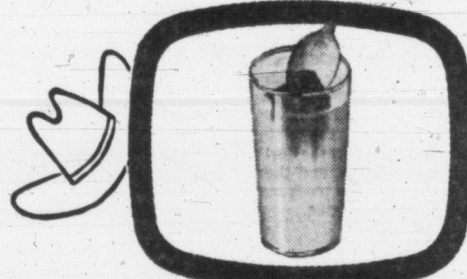

As a special service to our readers Dr. Hurlock has written a 64-page booklet, "You and Your Problems." For your copy sent 15 cents in coin with a self-addressed stamped envelope to this newspaper.

World Traveler Visits Berlin; Finds Contrasting Conditions; Unrest

By ELIZABETH FORBES

A five-hour walking tour in the eastern sector of Berlin with a guide who had once been a banker and is now courier for a world-renowned travel agency; visits to Beyreuth for the Wagner Festival and Salzburg for the summer folk festival; a journey up the Rhine; tours in the Black Forest; a visit to the famed underground fortifications of Luxembourg... Holland when bulbs were in bloom and the Coronation are all included in memories Mrs. Isabel Pollard has of a nine-month tour of Europe made this year.

Mrs. Pollard is in Victoria at present on a brief visit before going to San Francisco to make her future home.

This world traveler flew into Berlin by air lift, to find West Berlin, "gay and bright, with shops filled with merchandise, sidewalk cafes busy. Everyone making money, living for the day... and away."

Strangest sight to her in the British sector was a modern Russian Mission building guarded by German puppet leave this building except by car and only when they are well protected," she said.

And a small Russian memorial in the same sector, guarded only by two Russian soldiers.

These soldiers were not allowed to talk to visitors, not to have their pictures taken.

"Fraternalizing is completely taboo," Mrs. Pollard's guide told her and gave as a reason, "the ones in power are afraid their soldiers will be indoctrinated with our western ideas. Already they have had soldiers desert from that monument and disappear in our part of Berlin!"

EASTERN SECTOR

By subway to the border and then by train, Mrs. Pollard and her guide crossed to East Berlin for a five-hour visit in which they walked to the many points of interest. "It was less conspicuous that way," she explains. "As soon as we crossed the border, we found propaganda posters everywhere," Mrs. Pollard said.

She saw English language newspapers and many other language papers being sold in the railway station in East Berlin... but filled with Russian propaganda; very few automobiles and it is expensive; coffee shops that "appeared gay because the Russians bring conducted tours of workers from outlying districts to East Berlin... it is a holiday for them... they sing and smile... and of course it appears gay."

On the Unter den Linden, the Russian Embassy appeared to be the only large building in good repair; at the Vandenburg Gate only the Russian flag was flying "not the flags of all nations in Berlin as you might expect."

There is an absence of luxury foods but the state-owned shops are well stocked and while the people must use ration cards, and there is not a great variety of food they are not starving, Mrs. Pollard explained.

"This crossing the border for

Art Exhibition In Sooke Hall

Canadian Legion Auxiliary will sponsor an art exhibition in Legion Hall, Sooke, on Thursday, from 3 to 5 and from 8 to 10. Exhibitors of a series of water color paintings will be P. W. de P. Taylor, Eric St. Claire and Miss Gladys Grainger. Landscapes by Mr. Taylor will include not only local scenes, but also a series depicting parts of Ontario and Quebec which were done on a recent trip to those provinces. The work of St. Claire is largely symbolic, while Miss Grainger will contribute flower studies. Proceeds from a silver collection will be donated to the polio fund.

Esquimalt Women's Institute, Esquimalt Community Club Hall, Thursday, 2 p.m. Invitations have been extended to all local institute members to discuss plans for an institute house. 500 will be played in the evening.

Never say dye... say RIT

...for guaranteed results on all fabrics!

RIT—the modern all-purpose dye—is always safe, sure, guaranteed.

Mrs. Isabel Pollard thinks everyone who travels to Germany should know something of the Russian language... "so they can understand a little of what is being said." Then she adds, "you can be sure that most of the Russians there understand English."

food parcels is a hornet's nest, which was used as background, she says. "It's against the law actors appeared from the air, and is getting many of the people around the square; the pie of East Berlin into trouble, the voice of God spoke from the bell tower of the cathedral and parcels that get through."

Despite the appearance of calm acceptance of things as they are Mrs. Pollard feels there is a seething current of unrest and that "something" is bound to happen. And she quotes her guide as saying, "It will take time but finally we must take a crack at the Russians."

"We have fought on the wrong side in two wars... we hope if there is another time we will be on the right side... and that the Allies will support us."

Outstanding in Mrs. Pollard's memory is the morality play "Everyman" which she saw presented in the Dom Platz, a cathedral square in Salzburg.

"Living statues appeared in the facades of the cathedral

'Something Old' for Bride Is 150-Year-Old Locket

Wearing her great-great-grandmother's 150 year old golden locket as "something old," Doris Mary, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas B. Bird, 2325 Pacific Avenue, married Robert James Buhliert, son of Mr. and Mrs. Franklin J. Buhliert, Vancouver, in a double ceremony, Friday evening, the 27th anniversary of the bride's parents. Rev. T. W. Scott performed the ceremony in chrysanthemum-decked St. Mark's Anglican Church, Vancouver. Traditional wedding music was played on the organ. Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a forest green chiffon velvet gown, styled with fitted bodice and deep, rounded neckline. The full skirt was afternoon length. Her small-matching hat was veiled in green and she carried a crescent bouquet of bronze chrysanthemums and yellow roses.

Her only attendant was Miss Pat Hamilton, R.N., a fellow graduate of the bride's at St. Paul's Hospital, Vancouver. She wore a deep rose moire taffeta gown with matching hat and crescent bouquet of mauve chrysanthemums and heather. Best man was Alex McMullen, Vancouver. Ushers were Ralph Coates, Vancouver, and the bride's brother, James Bird, Victoria.

Reception was held at "The Hollies," where the couple cut a three-tier wedding cake which centred the lace-covered bridal table. The room was decorated with chrysanthemums, Norman Goughly, Chilliwack, proposed the toast to the bride. Out-of-town guests were the bride's grandmother, Mrs. George Bird; her aunt, Mrs. Florence Winter, and Mrs. Albert Wood, Port Alberni; Mr.

Noted Beauty Authority Advises

'Don't Fool With Pimples'

by MARCELLA HOLMES

(Former Beauty Editor of "Glamour" Magazine)

"As a beauty editor many people have asked me, 'what should I do for pimples?' I always say, don't try just anything on them! Acne-type pimples are a serious condition that if neglected can permanently mar your looks. So use a medication specifically developed for pimples, and not multi-purpose skin creams or ointments that are claimed to be 'also good for pimples.'"

"You see, general purpose creams and ointments do not provide in a fast-drying greaseless base the special medical ingredients so necessary in the treatment of pimples. But fortunately, today, there's a scientific medicated formulation developed especially to clear pimples, that has proven its effectiveness in actual use by thousands in Canada and the U.S. It is called CLEARASIL."

New-Type Greaseless "Base"

"The special medications in the CLEARASIL formula are contained in a new-type oil-free 'base.' This new 'base' material is not only greaseless but is also oil-absorbing, actually helps remove excess oil from skin that authorities agree is a major factor in acne. In fact, CLEARASIL has such remarkable drying action that it clears and dries pimples surprisingly fast.

"CLEARASIL is antiseptic, stopping growth of bacteria that may cause and spread pimples. And since it is non-grassy, stinging, it may be left on day and night for uninterrupted medication."

Skin-Colored—Hides Pimples

"This new CLEARASIL medication is skin-colored to hide pimples while it works, and to end the embarrassment of pimples instantly. "So again I advise, don't fool with pimples. General purpose creams and ointments have their proper uses, but don't depend on them for treatment of pimples. Treat this specific condition with a special medicine."

Reader's Digest reported on clinical tests using CLEARASIL type medication. CLEARASIL has helped so many boys, girls and adults that it is now the largest-selling special medicine in America. It must work for you or money back. Only 69¢. Large economy size $1.19. At all drugstores. Get CLEARASIL today.

Uncle Ed's Christmas Fund To Get Receipts From Dance

Annual children's Christmas modern dance band of Art party, sponsored by CKDA's Farcy. "Uncle" Ed Farcy, will profit from every admission to a dance at Victoria Ballroom, Thursday night.

Two orchestras will be in attendance, the Homesteaders with old-time music and the welfare.

Attendance Record At Night Schools

Enrollment in Greater Victoria night school classes has reached 1,671, the highest ever, Trustee Walter Jeune reported Monday to the Greater Victoria School Board.

He said the higher attendance was because of interest shown in courses leading to junior matriculation and such classes as square dancing and physical recreation.

NEW YORK, Eastern Parkway (UPI)—Joey Klein, 147, New York, outpointed Freddie (Babe) Herman, 142, Los Angeles (19).

Totem Theatre mustered all hands and called in a couple of extras Monday night for its production of the merry, mad Coward comedy, "Present Laughter."

It took 11 to fill the cast but everybody fitted so pleasantly into the right spots that the team play came off almost automatically.

There was no denying, however, the team captain who ran the length of the field and scored the triumphant touchdown was Totem's reliable, Sam Payne.

Payne, as the great matinee idol Garry Essendine, plays away for all his worth and then some—just as he's supposed to do.

As he admits in the play: "I'm always acting; watching myself go by."

It's quite something to watch, too, for Essendine is a very busy fellow. He's particularly busy

LOCAL NEWS BRIEFS

A six-man advisory committee on the development of Columbia River basin has been appointed by the provincial government, with Lands and Forests Minister R. E. Sommers, chairman.

Members are Agriculture Minister Kenneth Kiernan, Provincial Secretary Wesley Black, B.C. Power Commission chairman S. R. Weston, B.C. Electric vice-president Tom Ingledew and West Kootenay Power & Light Company general manager Robert Anderson.

Mayor Claude Harrison has accepted an invitation from Mayor Toby Jackson to be on hand at the opening of New Westminster's new City Hall on Thursday afternoon.

Mayor Harrison said he would make the trip at his own expense. On Tuesday, Nov. 24, Mayor Harrison will visit Nanaimo to address a meeting of that city's Pioneer Society.

All five candidates seeking election as mayor will be invited to state their platforms at a meeting to be held Dec. 2 at 8 p.m. in the YWCA.

The meeting is being arranged by the YWCA's public affairs committee.

An invitation to participate has already been extended Mayor Claude Harrison, who has signified his attention to attend.

Canadians Eating More Meat; Victorians More Fish

Canada, traditionally a nation of meat eaters, has one locale where fish bodes well to becoming the favorite dish... right here.

A report from Ottawa says that despite all the Department of Fisheries can do in its program to induce Mr. and Mrs. Canada to eat more fish, it just isn't having any luck. There continue to be more Canadians intent on eating up the beef, lamb and pork in the country than in demolishing the sea harvest.

That may be so elsewhere, but according to local fish merchants and cafes which specialize in fathom-food, people in this area aren't playing along.

"Why, we sell tons of fish to both tourists and Victorians," said one restaurant operator. "We can't get enough erab meat or shrimps to satisfy the demand."

The most popular sea food? "Sole, it's tasty and costs less." Also high on the list come salmon and trout.

Sole is also pretty well the most edible offering of fish merchants, with salmon and cod taking the next spots. And according to one operator, Victoria women really know their fish.

"If you put fish a day-old in the window, side by side with today's catch, chances are nine out of ten the women will pick the fresh fish," he said.

Main complaint among merchants is that the public seems to think fish too expensive, even though it costs less than meat.

"So they complain at the price, then go and buy some beef which costs more," said one.

Canadians ate 4.7 pounds less meat per capita in 1952 than in the previous year, but fish consumption increased only .21 pounds per person.

During the latter half of 1953 Canadians have been increasing beef eating tremendously, 29 per cent over 1952. This is expected to further reduce the yearly fish intake. Latest statistics showed Canadians ate 13.9 pounds of fish last year. Canned fish, mostly salmon, totaled 4.7 pounds per individual.

CLEVELAND (AP)—The purchase of Armand Dutch Del Monte, now with Ottawa Senators, was announced Sunday night by Cleveland Barons of the American Hockey League.

DEPARTMENT OF PUBLIC WORKS

SAANICH ELECTORAL DISTRICT

STREET LIGHTING AT INTERSECTIONS OF DOUGLAS STREET WITH QUADRA STREET, AND DOUGLAS STREET WITH REGINA AVENUE, VICTORIA, B.C.

NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS

Sealed Tenders, marked "Tender for Street Lighting" will be received by the Minister of Public Works, Douglas Building, 617 Government Street, Victoria, B.C., up to 12 o'clock noon, Pacific Standard Time on Monday the 30th day of November, 1953, and opened in public at that time and date.

Plans, specifications and conditions of tender may be obtained from the Public Works Office, Room 237, Douglas Building, Victoria, B.C., on deposit of a sum of Two Dollars ($2.00), which will be refunded on their return in good condition within a period of one month of the receipt of tenders, except in the case of the successful contractor where the plan deposit is not refundable.

No tender will be accepted or considered that contains an escalation clause or any other qualifying conditions and the lowest or any tender will not necessarily be accepted.

N. W. McALLISTER, Chief Engineer, Department of Public Works, Douglas Building, 617 Government Street, Victoria, B.C.

SEALED TENDERS

addressed to the undersigned and endorsed "TENDER FOR IMPROVEMENTS QUALICUM BEACH, FRENCH CREEK, B.C." will be received in the office of the Secretary, until 3:00 p.m. (P.S.T.), WEDNESDAY, DECEMBER 9, 1953.

Plans, form of contract and specification can be seen and forms of tender obtained at the office of the Chief Engineer, Department of Public Works, Ottawa, at the office of the District Engineer, Post Office Building, New Westminster, B.C., and at the Post Offices at Vancouver, Victoria, Alberni and Nanaimo, B.C.

Tenders will not be considered unless made on or according to these printed forms supplied by the Department and in accordance with conditions set forth therein.

Each tender must be accompanied by a certified cheque on a chartered bank in Canada, payable to the order of the Minister of Public Works, or Bearer Bonds as specified in the form of tender, for 10% of the amount of the tender.

NOTE: Upon application to the undersigned, the Department will supply blue-prints and specification of the work on deposit of a sum of $20.00, in the form of a certified bank cheque payable to the order of the Minister of Public Works. The deposit will be released on the return of the blue-prints and specification within a month from the date of receipt of tenders. If not returned within that period the deposit will be forfeited.

ROBERT PORTIER, Secretary, Department of Public Works, Ottawa, November 9, 1953.

TENDERS FOR DREDGING

SEALED TENDERS, addressed to the undersigned and endorsed "TENDER FOR DREDGING DOUGLAS ISLAND IN THE FRASER RIVER, B.C." will be received until 3 p.m. (P.S.T.), WEDNESDAY, DECEMBER 9, 1953.

Tenders will not be considered unless made on or according to the forms supplied by the Department and in accordance with the conditions set forth therein.

Combined specification and form of tender can be obtained on application to the undersigned, also at the office of the District Engineer, Post Office Building, P.O. Box 290, New Westminster, B.C.

Tenders must include the towing of the plant to and from the work.

The dredges and other plant which are intended to be employed on this work shall have been duly registered in Canada on or before the thirty-first day of December, 1952, and shall have been constructed and registered in Canada since the said date.

Each tender must be accompanied by a certified cheque on a chartered bank in Canada, made payable to the order of the Honourable the Minister of Public Works equal to 5% of the amount of the tender, or Bearer Bonds of the Dominion of Canada or of the Canadian National Railway Company and its constituent Companies, unconditionally guaranteed as to principal and interest by the Dominion of Canada, and the aforementioned bonds and a certified cheque if required to make up an odd amount, to no case shall the security deposit be less than $500.00.

ROBERT PORTIER, Secretary, Department of Public Works, Ottawa, November 9, 1953.

Celgar Studies New Contract Offered by IWA

TRAIL, B.C. (CP)—Members of the International Woodworkers of America CIO-CCL, today awaited reply to an interim agreement accepted for study by the Celgar Corporation of Castlegar, B.C.

Clayton Walls, union organizer, said the agreement would lead to negotiations to end the strike of woodworkers at two Celgar mills if it was accepted.

The plan contains a change in termination date of the contract, a union security clause including compulsory check-off and an across-the-board wage increase of six cents an hour.

The proposal was made during the week-end.

News of the World Editor Dies at 65

LONDON (AP)—Arthur George Waters, editor of the sensational Sunday newspaper, News of the World, died today. He was 65.

Waters joined the newspaper in 1914 and became editor in 1947 after two years as assistant editor.

He was a Welshman; born near Barry Dock.

The News of the World is an independent paper with a circulation of over 8,000,000. It devotes a great deal of space to sex and crime cases.

National Education Needed, Says Stewart

MONTREAL (CP)—Andrew Stewart, president of the University of Alberta, Monday night said education should be a federal responsibility.

In an address to the Montreal branch of the University of Alberta Alumni Association, Mr. Stewart said he regrets Premier Duplessis' refusal to allow Quebec universities to accept federal grants.

Education on a national basis would "greatly facilitate" exchange of university students between provinces.

ROBBED CELLMATE

SWIFT CURRENT, Sask. (CP)—James Gaunt was sentenced Monday to 25 days in the cell he asked police to let him sleep in during the week-end.

Gaunt pleaded guilty to stealing $1 from Harold Mathison, a companion who shared the cell.

Criminal Code Revision Goes Before House

Among Six Govt. Measures Presented

OTTAWA (CP)—The government Monday introduced its first legislation of the new session in the Commons.

Major item of the six government measures given first reading was a comprehensive rewrite of the Criminal Code, brought in at the last session but dropped then for lack of time to complete passage.

Pipeline legislation would give the federal Board of Transport Commissioners full control over companies operating lines across provincial or international borders and make such companies get their incorporation from parliament.

Prime Minister St. Laurent personally introduced a measure re-defining the duties of the resources and development department to place more emphasis on development of northern affairs and national resources.

The three other government measures were of a routine character.

The Criminal Code bill, under study for the last two sessions in committee, is the first whole-sale revision of the code in about 50 years. A special committee spent almost all of the last session whipping it into shape.

The pipeline legislation will reinforce the cabinet's determination to see a Canadian line for the transport of natural gas built from Alberta into Ontario and Quebec.

The government has looked with disfavor on the proposal of Consumers' Gas Company of Toronto to import Texas gas into Ontario, contending this might spoil the market for Alberta gas in that province.

Trans-border pipelines operating before October, 1953, would not be affected by the legislation.

Memorial Service Planned For John G. Somerville

Rev. Douglas Kendall, was scheduled to conduct a memorial service at Hayward's B.C. Funeral Chapel today for John G. Somerville, 82, retired teacher, who died Friday.

Yellowknife Voters Select First Council

YELLOWKNIFE, N. W. T. (CP)—Self-government came to Yellowknife with election of the first fully-elected municipal council in the mining town of some 3,000 population in the Northwest Territories.

Previously the council, known as the board of trustees, was appointed by Ottawa.

J. G. McNiven, long-time resident of Yellowknife and first resident of the Northwest Territories was elected the town's first mayor by acclamation nomination day.

A 13-man contest for the seven council vacancies resulted in a heavy vote.

Successful candidates were N. Cinnamon, Imperial Oil agent; G. A. Allen, accountant at Giant Yellowknife Gold Mines, Ltd.; M. V. England, hardware retailer; F. W. Henne, garage and taxi operator; B. Ardell, haulage contractor; N. Hutchins, carpenter and pastor of Bethel mission; and J. H. Winter, branch accountant for Consolidated Mining and Smelting Co.

57 AT WINNIPEG

WINNIPEG (CP)—Winnipeg enjoyed a record November 16 high of 57 degrees Monday as balmy Indian summer weather continued. Normal is 29.

While warm weather is still forecast for this part of the prairies, farther west a weather disturbance is forecast. Rain or snow was forecast for western and central Alberta Monday, with storm clouds moving into Saskatchewan mid-morning on Tuesday. Colder air will follow and bring more normal temperatures to northern and central regions Tuesday.

GLOVER JAILED FOR BREAKING MILK ORDER

VANCOUVER, B.C. (AP)—Harry Glover, dairyman from Port Alberni, B.C., was committed today to Oakalla Prison Farm for 14 days for refusing to pay a $100 fine for disobeying a milk board order.

A similar fine, levied against his son, Wallace, was paid. They were convicted of delivering milk in the Oyster Bay, district of Vancouver Island without a license from the milk board.

In 1908 he entered the contracting business in Duncan, then served with the RCAMC in the First World War. After the war he taught manual training at Nanaimo High School, where he endeavored to teach his students not only woodworking techniques, but the principles of good design.

He married in 1910. Following the death of his wife in 1938 he took up residence at the Pacific Club here, and achieved some renown as a poet, writing under the name of "Spinner."

HOME GARDEN

By HILDA BEASTALL

The continued mild weather has proved a great incentive to me for the planting out of perennials for flowering next year. Many of these are young plants from seed sown last March and pricked out into vases for planting bands. Due to lack of prepared ground during the summer, the plants have been kept in bands until this time, making very compact root systems.

The plant bands, sometimes called transplanting bands, are bought as flat strips of wood veneer, scored crosswise at four points. By bending each strip at the score and overlapping the ends, a wooden receptacle is formed which is open at top and bottom. The ends may be pinned with a desk stapler, or an elastic band may be used to hold the shape. Using them packed firmly side by side into flats (boxes measuring 12 by 24 inches and three inches deep) we do not use any fastener. They hold their shape without.

A mixture of soil containing humus should be used to fill the bands. Plant one seedling into each band.

Plant bands may be purchased from your seed store, or they can be obtained for you if not in stock. Sizes range from 1 1/2 inches square to four inches square and of various depths. They are packed dry to reduce freight charges, but must be soaked in water overnight before folding into shape. Failure to soak will result in the breaking of each strip.

Their many advantages include the ease of handling, cheapness, economy of space over the same number of small pots and giving greater soil area, and the elimination of much pot scrubbing! The greatest single advantage is the fact that the plants may be moved into permanent quarters without disturbance of roots.

Bands are indispensable for the growing of those annuals the seed catalogues advise to be sown "where they are to flower." The seed may either be sown in the bands and later thinned to the strongest plant, or the seedlings may be transplanted while very small into the bands.

Search Fails to Find Man on Mount Seymour
NORTH VANCOUVER (BUP)—An extensive search... has failed to turn up any trace of Arthur Tibbitt, 27, Deep Cove radio technician, missing for more than a week on Mount Seymour.

A search by skiers and forestry department official patrols began Nov. 9 when Tibbitt's car was found on the Mount Seymour road.

QCA Quits Regular Kitimat Schedule
VANCOUVER (CP)—Queen Charlotte Airlines Monday announced suspension of regular flights to the Aluminum Company of Canada's project at Kitimat, B.C., effective today, due to hazards of winter flying.

Officials also announced plans to install navigational aids and weather reporting stations at the entrance to Douglas channel, leading inland to Kitimat, about 450 miles north of Vancouver.

Completion of the plans hinges on the outcome of an air transport board hearing here Nov. 24. QCA will argue before the board for route protection which would prevent other airlines from directly serving Kitimat from Vancouver.

Pacific Western Airlines, which plans to fight the QCA application, reports it will continue its daily air service to Kitimat.

U.S. Civil War Vet, 102, Killed by Car

SAN BERNARDINO, Calif. (AP)—James Erwin, 102, believed to be one of only two remaining Confederate veterans of the American Civil War in southern California, was fatally injured Monday night when struck by an automobile.

Milk Board Inconsistent, Safeway Claim

The B.C. Milk Board's refusal to grant Safeway Ltd. a license to operate its own distribution plant is inconsistent with the government's milk-decontrol policy.

This was one of the arguments presented to the provincial cabinet Monday as Safeway's appeal against the ruling got under way.

The company emphasized that the government had eliminated controls above the producer level in September. Therefore, it was contended, the board had no right to refuse the license.

The company told the cabinet it is prepared to pay producers a quality premium of 10 cents a 100 pounds, and sell milk of 3.8 per cent butterfat (ordinary standard 3.5 per cent) in paper containers at 2 cents a quart cheaper than the milk sold in bottles.

Safeway's brief, referring to the argument of Vancouver distributors that there is already 33 per cent too much plant capacity in the Vancouver area, said this argument was not valid.

"This argument is invalid, because there is no obligation upon the milk board now that retail prices have been decontrolled to protect the investment of existing plants. If their plant costs increase they must find ways of becoming more efficient and meeting competition or go out of business."

"The public should not be asked to bear the cost of inefficient operation. The very fact that existing capacity is one-third more than necessary shows that the distributors have been asking the public, through higher prices for milk, to provide a return on capital that is not required," the brief said.

Safeway was represented by J. A. Macaulay, Q.C., C. K. Guild, S.C., and Walter J. Kraft, divisional manager.

Government Issues Anti-Accident Book

OTTAWA (CP)—The government has issued a 10-cent booklet designed to reduce the number of Canadians killed and injured in construction accidents.

The 48-page code of construction safety measures advises workmen and contractors how to avoid mishaps.

Last year 245 workers were killed in the construction field, compared with 215 in 1951 and 160 in 1950.

Esquimalt Council Makes Full Report To Public Dec. 10

Esquimalt's reeve and council will report to the Ratepayers' Association at a meeting in the Hotel Esquimalt, Esquimalt, at 8 p.m. Dec. 10.

Originally scheduled for Dec. 9, the date for the council's report of its stewardship was postponed one day to avoid conflict with the meeting of the Parent-Teachers' Association, which will hear an outline of the new school-building by-law on Dec. 10.

Reeve A. C. Wurtel and the council have invited all candidates in the municipal election to speak to the ratepayers' meeting.

Clarinet Concerto to Feature Jazz Recital

A journey into the esoteric world of jazz will be made to-night at Victoria Ballroom at 8.30.

Leading the expedition will be Gordon King and his 18-piece Victoria All-Star orchestra, ably aided by the Continentals and the Oaktettes.

This will be the second of a monthly series of concerts in the modern idiom. The first, four weeks ago, played to a capacity audience.

King's polished orchestra will occupy the main spotlight. The feature presentation of the band will be Artie Shaw's famous opus of the early 40's, "Concerto for Clarinet," with reed man Vern Bryant handling the difficult solo passages.

The always popular Continental, featuring George Foxcroft on vibraphones and vocals and advance tickets.

Wally Grieve on drums, will play during the intermission. Group vocal assignments will be handled by the Oaktettes, the teen-aged girls' quintet.

Tickets will be available at the door for those not having advance tickets.

German Specialists Reported Captives

BERLIN (AP)—A West Berlin anti-Communist group said Monday at least 1,000 German specialists, including atomic physicists, are still being forced to work in Russia for the Soviet military machine.

The League of Free Jurists said they are the remainder of a large number of scientists founded up in the east zone in Oct., 1946. Some have since returned to Germany.

Vancouver 'Ghost Car' Fleet Rounds Up Traffic Offenders

UN FURTHER DELAYS VOTE ON DISARMAMENT

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—The 60-member United Nations political committee today postponed a vote on American-backed disarmament proposals for 24 hours.

It was the second delay in reaching a decision on the plan which includes a suggestion for big-power arms talks.

The balloting had been held over from Monday when Russia, faced with defeat on her proposals, asked a 24-hour postponement so she could study the western resolution. The Russians seek an immediate ban on atomic and hydrogen weapons followed by the establishment of controls. The West wants controls arranged first and then the ban imposed.

The Russian-requested delay gave rise to speculation that the Soviet Union might not oppose the western resolution.

U.S. Reverses Stand On Korea Peace Talks

Dean Informs Reds of Willingness to Include Neutrals Under Set Conditions

By SAM SUMMERLIN

PANMUNJOM (AP)—United States envoy, Arthur Dean, today told the Communists that the United States would be willing to invite neutral powers to the Korean peace conference under certain conditions, a sharp reversal of his earlier stand.

At the same time, Dean rejected as "totally unacceptable" a Communist proposal to hold the conference at Panmunjom, with Russia, India, Burma, Indonesia and Pakistan attending as non-voting observers.

The United Nations delegate to preliminary peace talks told the Reds the U.S. would ask its allies to consider asking neutrals to the full-dress conference if:

1. The belligerent nations reach agreement on the Korean question and want to move on to broad Asian questions.
2. The conference bogs down and it appears that progress on Korean problems is impossible.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles declared today that all anti-Communist prisoners of war held by the Neutral Nations' Repatriation Commission in Korea should be given their freedom and civilian status on Jan. 22.

Indian Prime Minister Nehru had recently suggested that the question of release of the PWs should be considered anew by both sides in the Korean controversy if the proposed political conference does not take place.

Dulles made clear in a statement that the United States rejects this Nehru suggestion and feels that provisions of the Korean armistice agreement covering PWs must be carried out to the letter.

He said these provisions state that 120 days after the prisoners were turned over to the repatriation commission for explanations by Reds trying to persuade them to go home, they must be given their freedom and civilian status. He said the date for doing this will be Commission in Korea should Jan. 22.

WORKERS, ARISE!

Even Your Chains 'Made in U.S.A.'

LONDON (Reuters)—Moscow radio today instructed listeners that President Eisenhower's visit to Ottawa last week was intended to "sever the links between Canada and Britain."

The object, the broadcast said, was to "enslave still more the United States' northern neighbor."

'Killer' Smog Shrouds London

Townpeople Buy Masks to Combat Evil That Killed 4,000 Last Year

LONDON (UP)—Blinding, choking fog slowly paralyzed the world's largest city tonight, threatening a possible repeat of last year's "killer smog," which claimed the lives of 4,000 Londoners.

Fog descended thicker than ever tonight for the second straight evening. It spread across London and most of England and Wales.

Officials were seriously concerned for its eventual effects unless it clears soon.

Air, rail and road traffic was diverted or slowed to a crawl by the winter's worst blanket of mist.

SKY DARK

By mid-afternoon the daylight had been reduced to the dark of evening. Footsteps echoed strangely as the mist muffled all sounds in the dim, narrow back streets of London.

All druggists reported a rush by Londoners to buy "smog masks." Many gauge masks were distributed free under Britain's socialized medical program. Only a few of the masks had appeared on the streets to night. But many Londoners wrapped scarves around their faces.

The weather bureau predicted that the fog would not lift for at least another 48 hours.

SMOG

Smog—loaded with smoke and gases—traps and holds down the smoke belching from millions of London's old chimneys and exhaust fumes from cars and buses.

Thick patches of fog appeared Monday night. This morning thousands were late to work as the fog slowed trains, closed down airports and extended generally all over southern England and Wales.

A grizzled gatekeeper at a suburban station told an American commuter who rushed up in the fog at 9.30 in the hope of still catching the 9.15 train—"Why, the 8.15 isn't even gone yet."

Noon in Central London took on the appearance of dusk. Whispers of grey fog floated in doors.

Fraudulent Pyramid Amounts to $250,000

NEW YORK (AP)—A social-climbing Wall Street bond salesman was accused Monday of fraudulently pyramiding a shoe-string investment into a $250,000 fortune in four months. He started in Wall Street only a year ago.

He is Seymour Z. Zeitlin, 44, of Purchase, N.Y., enjoined by the state Supreme Court against further stock dealings.

Pearson Blocked U.S. Espionage Probe, Says Lasky

NEW YORK (UP)—Author Victor Lasky charged today that Lester B. Pearson of Canada, former president of the United Nations General Assembly, has made a "determined effort" to block American investigation of Soviet espionage.

Lasky attacked the Canadian diplomat in a speech prepared for delivery before a meeting of the Women's National Republican Club. He said his statements were "an undisclosed aspect of the Harry Dexter White case."

The speaker, who was editor of a recent book called "The American Legion Reader," accused Pearson of "consistently sabotaging U.S. efforts to unravel the skein of Soviet intrigue in Washington and Ottawa."

He referred specifically to a recent Canadian decision not to allow U.S. Senate committee investigators to question Igor Gouzenko.

OTTAWA (BUP)—External Affairs Minister Lester B. Pearson had a single, short comment to make today when he learned that an American author had accused him of blocking U.S. investigations of Soviet espionage.

"It's false," Pearson said. He refused further comment immediately.

Quebec Father Pleads Innocent To Slaying Tots

QUEBEC CITY (BUP)—An attempt will be made today to find two additional jurors to complete a 12-man court of Quebec's bench panel to try a 42-year-old Quebec City laborer charged with the axe-murder of his four children.

Georges Hebert pleaded innocent to the charge at the opening of his trial Monday, but only 10 of the 53 persons examined were found suitable for jury duty.

Hebert is charged specifically with the murder of his oldest son, Rene, 9. The child's mutilated body was found last April 23 along with those of his sisters, Louise, 7, and Nicole, 4, and his three-year-old brother, Gaetan.

The mother of the children is held as a material witness, and police said she had a lengthy record of arrests on vagrancy and other charges.

REFUSED INDUCTION

DES MOINES, Iowa (AP)—Two Amish youths, both with beards traditional to their Mennonite religious sect, were sentenced Monday to three years each for refusing induction into the United States army.

Emanuel J. Miller, 21, and Melvin J. Chupp, 22, both of Buchanan County, Iowa, were convicted last week.

Brutal Details of Murder Of Bobby Greenlease Read

(Compiled From UP and AP Dispatches)

KANSAS CITY, Mo.—Carl Austin Hall's confession said today that he had nearly all of the $600,000 Bobby Greenlease ransom with him when he was seized by St. Louis police on Oct. 6. About $300,000 now is missing.

Where the $300,000 went is the only big mystery remaining in the infamous kidnap case. Hall, 34, and his mistress, Mrs. Bonnie Brown Heady, are now before a jury that will decide whether they shall be executed for kidnapping and murdering the six-year-old boy.

They already have pleaded guilty. Hall, the 34-year-old playboy who turned to crime when his inherited fortune was squandered, showed little sign of emotion as the 36 pages of gruesome detail was read by A. S. Reeder, one of two FBI agents who took his confession.

Hall related how he drove the boy and Mrs. Heady across the state line into Kansas soon after six-year-old Bobby was abducted from a private Catholic school in Kansas City.

"Bobby had not offered any resistance and had not made any outcries," the confession read, "but seemed interested in his ride and appeared to be enjoying himself during the trip."

"After stopping the car, I got out on the driver's side, went to the rear and let the tailgate down, then laid out the blue plastic sheet. I then went around the car to the side opposite the driver and entered the car."

"Bobby was still sitting on the front seat, but Bonnie had left the car and was walking up a hedgerow at the rear of the car."

"I had a piece of rope which was part of a clothesline I had obtained from Bonnie's home. I then placed this rope around Bobby's neck and endeavored to strangle him."

"This rope was 12 inches or 15 inches long and was too short for me to hold in my hands and get a good twist. Bobby was struggling and kicking, so I took my .38 calibre revolver and fired what I believed to be two shots at Bobby's head at close range."

"I missed him on the first shot, but the second one entered his head, causing him to bleed profusely and subsequently die. I do not remember exactly what position Bobby was in at the time of his death but I believe that I had pushed him down on the floor."

As the gruesome story was unfolded in the packed courtroom, Robert C. Greenlease, the multi-millionaire father of the little boy, sat just inside the court railing. He was less than eight feet from Hall at the defendant's table.

Mrs. Heady's confession told how Hall shot the boy when he found a cord he had planned to use to strangle him was too short and how the couple earlier had been frustrated in an attempt to abduct the boy's 11-year-old sister, Virginia Sue.

Mrs. Heady appeared almost bored as Scheffler read the confession. Only once in the 44 minutes it took to read it did she appear affected. That was when Scheffler reached the point where she told how she drank herself almost into insensibility following the kidnapping slaying Sept. 28.

'I Wanted to Stay Drunk'

"I wanted to stay drunk so that my conscience wouldn't bother me," the confession read. The confession related how Bobby, abducted by Mrs. Heady from a private school of the use that she was his aunt, accompanied her and Hall willingly to a wheat field across the state line into Kansas where Hall and Mrs. Heady chose to kill the boy.

Bobby had noticed some hedge balls—something like horse chestnut burrs—and had mentioned them to Mrs. Heady.

After Hall stopped Mrs. Heady's station wagon he spread a plastic sheet in the rear in preparation for Bobby's slaying.

Mrs. Heady's confession said she had walked about 75 or 100 feet when she heard two shots. "I then realized Carl had actually killed the victim by shooting him, although it originally was planned that he would strangle him with a small piece of rope he had in the station wagon."

"As I approached the station wagon, Carl was wrapping Bobby in a piece of blue plastic on the ground behind the station wagon."

"I noticed that Carl had blood on his face, coat, hands and arms. I helped him take off his coat which we folded inside out and placed it in the back of the station wagon and then Carl rolled up the sleeves of his shirt because they also were covered with blood."

Boy Started to Struggle and Fight "I recall asking Carl at that point why he shot the victim, and he told me he tried to strangle him but the cord was too short. . . and since the boy started to struggle and fight he had to dispose of him by shooting."

The confession went on to tell how the couple stopped at a tavern for some drinks on the way to Mrs. Heady's St. Joseph, Mo., home where a grave had been dug for the body the day before.

Mrs. Heady said the couple finally decided the day before the kidnapping that little Bobby had to be killed to shield them from possible identification.

"I am certain at the time of my arrest I had about $570,000 in the two suitcases and about $22,000 in my briefcase," Hall, in his confession, said.

Hall caught a glimpse of one of the suitcases later in a St. Louis police station, but said he never did see the other one or the briefcase again.

Two bills from the missing $300,000 have turned up in Michigan and one in Indiana, but there is no sign where the rest went.

St. Louis police officials investigated every officer connected with the case. Lieut. Louis Shoulters, who arrested Hall, resigned from the department in anger because of the inquiry.

Hall's confession also disclosed that he toyed with the idea of demanding a $500,000 ransom but decided on $600,000 because $1,000,000 in small bills would be too heavy to carry.

He revealed that he is a drug addict, in addition to being a heavy drinker.

Political Thunderheads Loom Over Brownell-Truman Fight

Truman Maintains He Aided FBI Probe By Retaining White in Government Job

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP)—Harry S. Truman said in a nationwide broadcast Monday night he knew of FBI reports concerning the loyalty of the late Harry Dexter White, but he retained him in the administration in order not to stall an intensive investigation of Communist activity.

The former president also charged the present administration has "fully embraced, for political advantage, McCarthyism."

Truman called Brownell's allegations "phony," "false" and "cheap political trickery." He said the Brownell blast—which set off the current political tempest—was "cheap demagoguery."

The course the administration took, Truman said, "protected the public interest and security and, at the same time, permitted the intensive FBI investigation then in progress to go forward. No other course could have served both of these purposes."

Now the Greenlease murderers are fighting for their lives. I hope the jury will remember that the six-year-old boy did, too—before they shot him.

WIRE BRIEFS

Reynolds Hanged

LEICESTER, Eng. (Reuters)—Joseph Christopher Reynolds, 31, was hanged here today for strangling a 12-year-old girl last May. His trial had lasted four minutes.

7 Dead in Air Crash

FT. BRAGG, N.C. (AP)—The Army reported that a big C-119 Globemaster troop transport plane crashed on the Fort Bragg reservation today, killing at least seven.

The crash occurred in an army parachute drop zone on this big military reservation.

Dog Poisoner Active

KELOWNA, B.C. (CP)—Two citizens who lost pets to a dog poisoner have offered a $100 reward for information leading to his arrest. Four pets have died from strychnine-filled sausages. RCMP are investigating.

Truman's 'Delusion' May Have Caused U.S. Great Harm, Brownell Tells Senate Committee

WASHINGTON (UP)—Attorney-General Herbert Brownell, Jr., said today that former President Truman was unwilling to face the facts about Communist espionage in the U.S. government and that his "delusion" may have caused great harm to the country.

Brownell went before the Senate internal security subcommittee in a jammed Senate hearing room to document his case against Mr. Truman's handling of Harry Dexter White.

In the hearing room as Brownell testified was FBI director J. Edgar Hoover. Hoover told reporters he was "prepared" to answer any questions the subcommittee might ask.

On the heels of Mr. Truman's nationwide radio-TV speech Monday night charging that the administration was playing politics and resorting to "McCarthyism," Brownell told the subcommittee: "When this committee completes its investigation, I believe that you will conclude, as I did, that there was an unwillingness on the part of Mr. Truman and others around him to face the facts and a persistent delusion that Communist espionage in high places in our government was a red herring."

"And I believe you will conclude that this attitude, this delusion, may have resulted in great harm to our nation."

As the hearing opened, Sen. William E. Jenner said his subcommittee is investigating "a consummate and monstrous conspiracy" of Communism and spies in past administrations—not just the White case.

CIO, AFL Make 'No-Raiding' Pact

CLEVELAND, O. (UP)—The National CIO convention today joined the AFL in an unprecedented peace pact to outlaw membership raids between the giant labor unions.

Some 700 delegates to the 15th constitutional convention unanimously approved a "no-raiding" agreement to follow the same action taken by the AFL in September. The pact automatically goes into effect Jan. 1.

Capital Punishment To Be Studied

OTTAWA (CP)—Justice Minister Garson indicated today the government has decided to appoint a commission to study capital punishment.

Replying in the Commons to Harold E. Winch, CCF, Vancouver East, the minister said announcement of appointment of a commission would be postponed until the new Criminal Code came up for second reading in the House.

Mr. Garson said the government now is studying the report of a British royal commission on capital punishment.

New Trial Ordered for Immigrant

CALGARY (CP)—A new trial was ordered today for Ilie Petricuk, 29-year-old Romanian immigrant charged with the September murder of his wife.

Mr. Justice Hugh John Macdonald said he was ordering the new trial because the Crown prosecutor intimated that Petricuk did not understand all that took place during Monday's hearing, the first day of the Supreme Court trial.

Dewolf Dies, Denying Guilt

McALISTER, Okla. (UP)—Cop-killer Carl Austin Dewolf, whose 15 days of execution kept him in the Oklahoma death row longer than any other man in history, died in the electric chair today for the 1946 murder of Tulsa detective Jerry St. Clair.

Dewolf proclaimed his innocence until the end and, in a final statement, accused Oklahoma Governor Johnston Murray of letting him down.

U.S. Reverses Stand On Korea Peace Talks

By SAM SUMMERLIN

PANMUNJOM (AP)—United States envoy, Arthur Dean, today told the Communists that the United States would be willing to invite neutral powers to the Korean peace conference under certain conditions, a sharp reversal of his earlier stand.

At the same time, Dean rejected as "totally unacceptable" a Communist proposal to hold the conference at Panmunjom, with Russia, India, Burma, Indonesia and Pakistan attending as non-voting observers.

The United Nations delegate to preliminary peace talks told the Reds the U.S. would ask its allies to consider asking neutrals to the full-dress conference if:

1. The belligerent nations reach agreement on the Korean question and want to move on to broad Asian questions.

2. The conference bogs down and it appears that progress on Korean problems is impossible.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles declared today that all anti-Communist prisoners of war held by the Neutral Nations' Repatriation Commission in Korea should be given their freedom and civilian status on Jan. 22.

Indian Prime Minister Nehru had recently suggested that the question of release of the PWs should be considered anew by both sides in the Korean controversy. If the proposed political conference does not take place.

Dulles made clear in a statement that the United States rejects this Nehru suggestion and feels that provisions of the Korean armistice agreement covering PWs must be carried out to the letter.

He said these provisions state that 120 days after the prisoners were turned over to the repatriation commission for explanations by Reds trying to persuade them to go home, they must be given their freedom and civilian status. He said the date for doing this will be Jan. 22.

Greenlease Details Heard

Almost All of $600,000 Ransom With Him When Caught, Hall Says

(Compiled From UP and AP Dispatches)

KANSAS CITY, Mo.—Carl Austin Hall's confession said today that he had nearly all of the $600,000 Bobby Greenlease ransom with him when he was seized by St. Louis police on Oct. 6. About $300,000 now is missing.

Where the $300,000 went is the only big mystery remaining in the infamous kidnap case. Hall, 34, and his mistress, Mrs. Bonnie Brown Heady, are now before a jury that will decide whether they shall be executed for kidnapping and murdering the six-year-old boy.

They already have pleaded guilty.

Hall, the 34-year-old playboy who turned to crime when his inherited fortune was squandered, showed little sign of emotion as the 36 pages of gruesome detail was read by A. S. Reeder, one of two FBI agents who took his confession.

Hall related how he drove the boy and Mrs. Heady across the state line into Kansas soon after six-year-old Bobby was abducted from a private Catholic school in Kansas City.

"Bobby had not offered any resistance and had not made any outcries," the confession read, "but seemed interested in his ride and appeared to be enjoying himself during the trip."

"After stopping the car, I got out on the driver's side, went to the rear and let the tailgate down, then laid out the blue plastic sheet. I then went around the car to the side opposite the driver and entered the car."

"Bobby was still sitting on the front seat, but Bonnie had left the car and was walking up a hedgerow at the rear of the car."

"I had a piece of rope which was part of a clothesline I had obtained from Bonnie's home. I then placed this rope around Bobby's neck and endeavored to strangle him."

"This rope was 12 inches or 15 inches long and was too short for me to hold in my hands and get a good twist. Bobby was struggling and kicking, so I took my .38 calibre revolver and fired what I believed to be two shots at Bobby's head at close range."

"I missed him on the first shot, but the second one entered his head, causing him to bleed profusely and subsequent."

Mossadegh at Trial

Former Premier Mohammed Mossadegh pictured during his trial before military tribunal at Tehran, Iran. His various facial expressions characterize his assaults against group trying him for treason. At one stage of proceedings, the aging, frail Mossadegh shouted at his accusers: "This is the first time in history a legal premier has been tried in this disgraceful condition."

'Disgusted and Ashamed,' Five Secreds Resign

Gus Taylor, former secretary of the Oak Bay Social Credit Association, today announced he is quitting the Social Credit Party because of disappointment over the government's failure to follow original party policies.

His announcement came hard on the heels of a similar move by George Alexander, former president of the association and the man who led the "draft Gundersen" movement in Oak Bay before the last general election.

Mr. Alexander was Social candidate in Oak Bay in 1952.

Two other members of the Oak Bay Association, Frank Baylis, a contractor, and a salesman who wouldn't allow his name to be published, also have refused to renew their membership cards.

Lou Holker, another Oak Bay Secred, announced his resignation Saturday.

This brings to five the number of resignations from the Secred party in four days.

Mr. Taylor, who is sending his resignation to the B.C. Social Credit League tonight, said he is quitting the party because it has turned into a "political party" when the original intention was to keep it a "people's movement."

"I have no intention of being long to any political party," Mr. Taylor stated.

He said he is "disgusted, disappointed, and ashamed." He said he is sorry he tried in the past to influence friends to join Social Credit.

Mr. Alexander said in his resignation statement: "I do not believe that the government has shown the least consideration for the individual, who is so important according to Social Credit principles."

"The 10 per cent liquor tax is an example. What about the promises about lowering of the three percent tax."

Year's Worst Mist Ties Up Travel

LONDON (UP)—Blinding, choking fog slowly paralyzed the world's largest city tonight, threatening a possible repeat of last year's "killer smog," which claimed the lives of 4,000 Londoners.

Fog descended thicker than ever tonight for the second straight evening. It spread across London and most of England and Wales.

Officials were seriously concerned for its eventual effects unless it clears soon.

Air, rail and road traffic was diverted or slowed to a crawl by the winter's worst blanket of mist.

Thick patches of fog appeared Monday night. This morning thousands were late to work as the fog slowed trains, closed down airports and extended generally all over southern England and Wales.

A grizzled gatekeeper at a suburban station told an American commuter who rushed up in the fog at 9.30 in the hope of still catching the 9.15 train: "Why, the 8.15 isn't even gone yet."

Noon in Central London took on the appearance of dusk. Whiffs of grey fog floated in doors.

Hoover Denies Deal In Harry White Case

FBI Director Appears Before Senate Committee; Truman Answers Charges

WASHINGTON (UP)—FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover told the Senate internal security subcommittee today that the FBI was "not a party to any agreement to keep Harry Dexter White in public service."

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP)—Harry S. Truman said in a nationwide broadcast Monday night he knew of FBI reports concerning the loyalty of the late Harry Dexter White, but he retained him in the administration in order not to stall an intensive investigation of Communist activity.

The former president also charged the present administration has "fully embraced, for political advantage, McCarthyism."

Thousands View Body Of Joseph Stalin

MOSCOW (AP)—Thousands of people marched across snowy Red Square today to file through the Lenin-Stalin tomb and get their first look at the embalmed body of Joseph Stalin. It was the first public opening of the tomb since the Soviet leader died in March.

Hebert is charged specifically with the murder of his oldest son, Rene, 9. The child's mutilated body was found last April 23 along with those of his sisters, Louise, 7, and Nicole, 4, and his three-year-old brother, Gaetan.

The mother of the children is held as a material witness, and police said she had a lengthy record of arrests on vagrancy and other charges.

TCA Air Freight Rates Will Drop

OTTAWA (CP)—The Air Transport Board has approved a reduction in government-owned Trans-Canada Air Lines' air freight charges across Canada, it was learned Tuesday.

The new rates, cutting present tolls by as much as 50 per cent in some cases, are expected to become effective Jan. 1.

COPS IN TRUCKS, CONVERTIBLES

Vancouver 'Ghost Car' Fleet Rounds Up Traffic Offenders

VANCOUVER (CP)—Ghost-car riding police here are getting quick results in a ticket-barrage against "unsporting drivers."

Started Wednesday when the year's traffic fatality toll hit 34—1953's total—the drive puts plain-clothes officers in trucks, sporty convertibles and luxurious limousines to catch speeders.

Two motorists Monday, feeling they had imbibed too well, parked their cars, entered the police station and asked police to drive them home. Police called cabs but kept the cars.

Chief Walter Mulligan announced Wednesday that police would use "every trick in the book to trap reckless drivers," even those travelling "two miles an hour over the 30 m.p.h. limit."

Local newspapers gave the drive publicity, and traffic superintendent Gordon Ambrose, out in his own auto Monday night in slacks and a leather jacket, said: "It was apparent to me that collisions were reported."
